Preface

This work is in gratitude to 21 years of studying the human complex and the relation to the unseen worlds which governs the human affair and life as a whole.

It is summoning the beginning of an era of light and new possibilities for the human race as part of the human deal which enables to become more aligned to the core reasoning and endeavors of life.

It is a call for all humans to find the inner call for new approach to life as a whole journey starting in the physical level and elevating into the energy levels and vice versa.

It is a glance into the unlimited possibilities of life that are open to every human who is open and inspired by more subtle systems within the human.

It tries to draw away the curtain of new unknown energy worlds that waits for someone to take it on and explore into new unknown territories.

It is meant to promote inspiration and cure to everyone that will read the work and to create new opportunities and tools in order to allow it more places into the human conscience.

It may help those who read it to discover for themselves a process of unity with the higher realms of life and to create room for new possibilities and opening a bridge between the local planetary affair and the long lasting universal affair in a way that something might pass.

Wish to send much appreciation to my teachers, family, and many friends around the world, and all the people who are pioneering the way for new revelations and possibilities in healing and enhancement.

Introduction

The work ahead is an ongoing research and exploration towards Energetic Healing by human frequency enhancement and deepening conscience which is a result of deep study about the human complex and systems physically and energy.

There are few questions that are the core research in this work which are described as:

- ✓ Can a problem or a difficulty that ensue from a certain energy level can be healed using a higher energy level.
- ✓ Does a change in the energy level of a person can cause a change in the responses behavior-feeling-mental of that person?
- ✓ Is it true that energy treatment might cause a physical improvement?
- ✓ Will it be right to relate a cure of a physical problem for example skin rash to an energy influence?
- ✓ Should a conscious act will be done by a person or an understanding of the cause for the problem, for example skin rash, may help to prevent the problem to appear once more.

These questions are a result of the change which is now affects every aspect in the human affair upon the current time which can be seen in the territories of: education, health, governments, social life, interest hobbies, family life and the economy.

The human is requested more and more to take care of a wideband influences and changes and take a position with conscious responsibility and is affected by local and un-local forces at play which influence all humans.

There are many changes within each one that are felt and yet in the unconscious part for some of the people. As more and more people will be exposed to these influence consciously it will bring to the upfront of the conscious to gain more knowledge and tools using the human energy abilities and expand them in order not to get lost and crashed in the falls of the coming changes.

Here are some more territories that this work will relate to them indirectly because they are part of the human theatrical and cycles: time, sleep, physical feelings, changes in the head, energy seeing, telepathy, wide ban conscious, healing energy, slowing down, listening, self and personal coaching, searching for inspiration, search for new talents and possibilities, new creativity, mindful notation and freedom, working out the all over influences upon life, the current culture and its restrictions.

The philosophical questions that can be asked while reading the work is about life as a whole:

Is it a robotic body experimental or is it an experiment of something higher and wider as part of energy appearance in a form of matter in order to keep the expansion and experience of Creation and the Universe.

Is life is a onetime single appearance or is it part on an ongoing continuous experience which enables to reform and gain wisdom and experience which is used to enrich the whole aspects of life in the universe.

Is the living is private or is it in communion with all people in the past and the present and allowing elevating and responding to the next stage in the human affair. Is the next stage towards the endless possibilities of life and experience is occurring from creation towards the human race when its ready or waiting for the human to be able and gain enough power to jump into the next elevation.

The opening dilemma for the beginning of this research will be:

what is the human deal is it a random appearance created by physical evolution from the animal level or is it a new appearance of an energy into the platform body of a human in order to change and reform and allow revival and growth to the human and the planet and the universe and allow the continuous elevation of life and intelligence towards creation.

The importance of the research is to define the way of healing possibilities in the new era of light and allow the improvement of the limited human situation in order to gain hope and intelligence and to inspire others to take conscious decisions and responsibilities upon their life and to help themselves and later others.

In this work it will be explained and described researched the human energy systems, how an energetic change can occur and what it will influence in our life. How all this is related to the universe and creation and the human existence. We will find and explore how we can make ourselves more prone to fine energy levels that are used to eliminate the influences of pain and sickness which are the expressions of lower energy levels. The more a person is progressing in the energy level that he deals with the healthier and stronger he will feel, far beyond the common difficulties and problems of life. By using higher levels of energy it becomes possible to help other people who are still fighting and processing the hardness of life. This can provoke the question how is it done, in what ways, in which methods and this is what will be researched and explained with the basic tools that explains how everything is connected and woven so that the reader can think about his/her own existence and way of living.

Here are some more questions which this research raises and perhaps there will be glimpse of understanding about it:

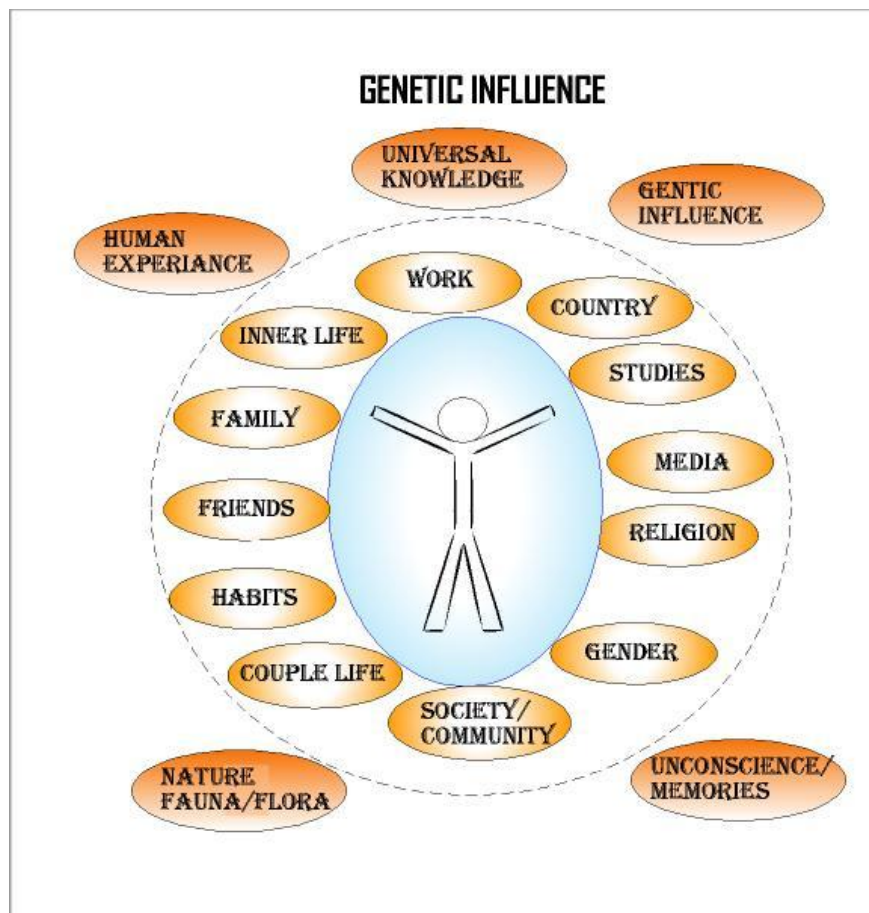

- Is there a state in creation of basic maintenance system and a higher unexplored state of existence?
- Is higher intelligence can be acquired or is it on line conductivity that allows it to be reached?
- Is the possibility to overcome energy barriers and difficulties emanates from unsuccessful connections with the healing higher energy forces?
- Is the possibility of connecting into higher energy levels is open for all human beings if they would have chosen to do the work in order to achieve this possibility?
- What kind of expressions will be in each person who successfully riches the higher energy levels of life?
- Is energy healing is a human invention or is it something which works through the human by the human?
- How the healing force looks like?

Literature references

Here are some fundamentals gathered from a wide references of old and new knowledge that will determine the basic platform for the research and allow the reader to become more familiar with the ideas and perceptions that support the theory.

The Human as inherent part of Creation

Living as part of a wholesome environment which influence and affect us each fraction of a second. There are endless influences that are related to each one as seen in picture number 1. These influences are becoming the background noise of the human and will determine what is possible and what is not. It will present the difficulties as a barrier in the mind and will present the possibilities as a light or over power inside ourselves.

Picture 1

The human is an ongoing accumulating machine which experience and can absorb every year more according to the capabilities. It is a life time experience:

- Before pregnancy
- Being in the womb
- Puberty
- Grown up
- Midlife crisis
- Adulthood
- Old age

The form of the human being changes from before pregnancy and after life

There are all kinds of learning and explorations during life:

- From nature fauna and flora
- Physical expression and sensing
- Social options and exploration
- Study professions
- Practical experience
- Special talent development
- Natural abilities
- Learning from experts
- Higher intelligent attachments

The history of energy healing and conductivity:

- Ancient Egypt
- The Indians
- The Chinese

- The Aztec, an ancient empire situated in Mexico
- The Inca, a group of South American Indians that ruled Peru before the coming of Spaniards in the sixteenth century
- The Maya, peoples of southern Mexico and northern Central America
- The Aborigines native, indigenous person, member of a people considered to be the original inhabitants of a region

After which it developed into modern medicine where the method is mainly based on drugs and clearing the disturbing symptoms of the disease.

There are also bad expressions of energy powers such as:

- Voodoo, form of religious witchcraft of African origin which common in the West Indies
- Black magic
- Hypnosis
- Superstition
- The evil eye
- Curses
- Bad luck

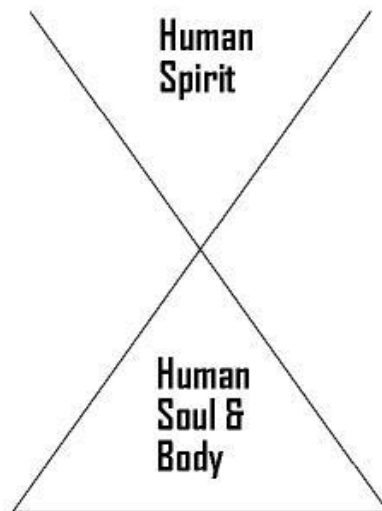

Beside the negative aspects in energy levels there is the side of miracles for whatever is beyond our knowledge to explain it. The healing that Jesus Christ has done was considered as such miracles. There were many more people who were living in the past and in the present that are able to use energy levels that can cure and enhance.

It is known that a word can hurt much more than a physical punishment because it is an energy that can be engraved into the person's energy system which is called the Aura and only a higher form of energy can replace or put upon it to reduce its effect on the person.

The human being is part of the whole creation

The human – The planet – The universe are interrelated and are working in synchronization. The human has a planetary body and a brain which is a higher form of existence and a soul which is planetary and a spirit which is coming from the core of creation. It is a most sophisticated existence that is connected in all energy levels so that it can be the expression and transformation between all those energy levels.

Each part that was mentioned has a rule and duty in the human affair and needs to be studied in order to understand its fullest possibilities. The soul is a local form of energy that allows the living. The spirit is a higher energy form that contains the eternal spark of life which has no limits in place or time (picture number 2).

The Soul

It is the coordinator of the system using the brain for activating the human complex. It is an autonomic system which works and operating according the unique person. It designed to allow the system to work at its best although it is dependent by the wishes of the person. It will obey the person even if it will feel that it is bad (food consumption, drinking, strains, constrains, circumstances). It is provided by the planet we live upon and allows living in the body which we call being alive like a womb in which the person is developing.

The Spirit

It is creating the possibilities to rejoin the higher faculties and energies which influence the brain. Works according to choice and wakens when the choice align with the destiny and preordains assignments. When it lightens up it washes the whole person with high quality energy, it is called being enlighten. When it occur new intelligence and conductivity arises and it causes great inspiration. It is provided by creation and arrives to the person coded for the higher tasks if there will be a wish for it by the person.

Energy Healing as a method for well being

The research descried in this work is based upon the existing knowledge about the human energy system. For example it is known that there is transference of physical food that we eat into energy that the body produces so we can do things. We take in one form of energy which is physical and turn it into movement, thoughts, revelations which are energies and allow us to grow. In the other direction it is possible to take in energy like thoughts or ideas and to fulfill them into physical level by becoming the thought for example: A plan to travel in the desert and fulfilling it, or a thought that we are doing great and have success where if we believe it this is what will happen to us. Every action begins with a thought, even to raise our hand, every thought begins with an energy that caused this specific thought to arise. For example: sitting in a bus near someone and suddenly have weird thoughts to dance in the bus, which can be our neighbor sitting next to us who is a dancer. Being hurt physically can cause irritation for a while but then the body get cured, being hurt because something that was said to us which is pure energy in the form of a sound can be printed into our subconscious and can't be cured in a physical way. When we act aggressively towards others it teaches our body cells to become aggressive which can cause a disease because our energy of aggressiveness is stored in our cell's memory. To cure this is something which needs a higher form of energy in order to clean it and reform the influence of the previous printing (The Hidden Messages in Water). So there is a need for creating a possibility to produce an enhanced energy and a way to enter into the human energy system which is a new territory to discover.

Energy enhancement and its influence upon the human energy system

Every moment and in every situation the person is under energy influence. The influences that are interesting in the time of strengthening are those which make the person ill or weak and cause the person to develop symptoms of hurt and desperation. After the energy treatment the person might still have some weakness even though he has overcome the influence that caused the difficulty. The weakness is due to other influence that he had in his life like: In young age some event has caused a hole in his aura (energy field around the body) which suck though it lower and coarse energy. The strengthening is needed to allow a place to heal like in the case of the physical immune system that is needed to prevent the current virus to attack. The same is with the immune system in the energy level, it needs to have some electrical coding to prevent the previous difficulty and to move the person into a better place in himself so that the lower energy will not find him in the place he has been before.

There are few methods to make the strengthening in the energy level:

They may appear in a color, symbol, a saying, walking in nature, listening to music, doing something we love, being creative, being emotional, let go of inner feelings and so on.

There is a need to differentiate between the inner and the external parts and be in contact and in communication with the inner voice that allows accepting understandings from higher parts in ourselves that are there from the first day of our life. We need this communication in order to fulfill the whole human deal of life inside a human body with many tasks and wide missions that are related to the universal energy life levels which demand a human complex and experience in the physical form. This allows new and higher abilities above the survival level of living in order to process and create healing influences and bringing the inner state of the person into a more quality and enhanced place like when purifying oil for cars and planes or uranium that can be used in higher level of creating energy. The idea is to become my own person and not effected by lower local energies and emotions. The connection and uniqueness of the person in Creation is in relation to direct communication with the higher realms and when it isn't achieved the person is searching for connections with local things as givers of enhancement for life and in this case it shuts the possibilities of higher energy influencing. The idea of energy healing and enhancement is to grow to a place where the future is unknown and open and changes and reforms all the time.

Here are evidences from the literatures; they are also related to inside the research itself:

1. Cobwebs and Tears

Chapter 3 page 14:

The Unseen and The Unsensed The Energising of the Human Person. The human, in this instance, is deemed to be a container of various component parts with different weaves and densities and versatilities in which resides an unchanging substance known as the spirit; and the term unchanged refers here to its type and character which does not change, although it might certainly appear to change according to whether it becomes illuminated or not. (Thus, it is the degree of illumination which changes and not the type and character of the spirit itself.) Then, next in importance, is that which is known as the soul. which is deemed to be an electrical form of spirit nature responsible for mixing and orchestration of all parts of the system

Now, after these two (the spirit and the soul), everything comes from, derives from, appears from and happens from and by electro-magnetic concentrates in one form or another, some of them fixed (element) and some of them moving (essence).

In order to understand the principle of this, it is necessary to scientifically understand the basic fact of how matter actually appears; and this was discovered by the reverse process at the beginning of this century by scientists who split the nucleus of the atom, which can be explained in the following way...

If we take a substance and keep reducing it, there comes a point beyond which it cannot be broken down any further and still remain matter; and at this point we are in the realms of the electron microscope, the realms of the atom itself. The atom is made up of a central body or nucleus (consisting of protons [+] and neutrons [n]), around which, like the sun, a number of 'moons' (electrons [-]) travel; and by the number and placement of moons around the central body is the kind and character of that smallest particle of matter, the atom, determined. Now, scientists split the nucleus of the atom; and the atom, which had previously been in a state of matter, seemed to disappear altogether, by reversion to the original electrical or force state, for it was discovered that as a result of this disappearing act quite large and substantial electrical forces were produced. See, therefore, that this discovery was made by the reverse process to that of formation; and although we have an academic interest in the splitting of the nucleus of the atom, the truth for us lies in the reverse of this... And now the system is being pointed to whereby power of electrical or radioactive (here meaning existing in the higher state) denominations can, by condensing, take on the form that we understand as matter.

Now, having understood the principle of this, immediately it should be realised that the beginnings of what causes anything lie in the issue of these first powers or signals. What is being said, therefore, is that thought in the brain, which is the manufacture and the bringing together and the giving of form by the circuitry that develops, is then going to resonate throughout the whole of the human empire at different levels of the appearance of matter, thus translating original cause into action, noise, secretion, patterning and so on. This leads, in the end, to the knowledge that we, become filled with the condensed matter of ourselves which, issues from, or is caused to be issued from, what we think, formulate, do or process.

A human actually becomes the living embodiment of what gives cause to them or what they allow to give cause to them. This can result in enhancement of vigour, vitality and versatility, at or above normal; or conversely, it can, if unfortunate issue of self is undertaken, result in the loss of these properties, at or below normal, by comparison.

This study therefore, that the human can definitely and definitively determine, should they so wish, exactly what happens to them within the human characteristic, for this condensation extends to emanation, presence, charisma, odour, fineness or coarseness of component parts; to degrees of either more or less of that which is considered to be pollution; to healing faculty on the one hand or disease and disablement on the other; to ignorance or true enlightenment. It depends entirely upon what you allow to originate in you, understanding of course, from the chapter 'Locating Home Base', that by 1/3 you appear already in process which might or might not be desirable against a definite, worked out plan of your own requirement and intention.

This then introduces you to the unseen worlds which give rise to all that is seen, known and experienced by and into self.

2. LIVING ON LIGHT

Chapter 2 page 17

Understanding & Working with Vibrational Frequencies

Every thought sent forth is a never ending vibration winging its way across the Universe to bring us back just what we sent forth. We can control the vibrations that emanate from us – and we can thereby control our destinies. Thus, science and religion can at last join hands and step into the spiritual realms of eternal progress and happiness together. One reaches the Higher Knowledge through a complete understanding of the material elements which melt into Light and energy and vibration through investigation; the other through its direct search into the spiritual, for both are one, expressed in various degrees of intensity and vibration.”

“We discovered that the frequency at which a Being vibrates is directly related to the command it has over its thoughts, words and emotions. When a Being is vibrating at a lower frequency, it permits many other forms of energies to mix and mingle with its pool of energy and its cycles. When this happens, the thoughts have a tendency to get confused which causes a being to experience frustration. In this state of BEingness, one who is operating at this frequency can get very discouraged and depressed which only has the tendency to keep the vibratory level at a constant lower level.

“When one increases one’s frequency to that of the speed of Light, then the mastery of the process begins. This means that the Being now has access to more information in the universal Consciousness, but that Being also has the command to dictate what will or will not come through the filter.

“When we are centered, we are accessing the Universal code and when we tap into this frequency, we understand another’s frequency patterns too. That is, again, because we are one. In the Oneness of this existence we are able to transmit and receive messages; and more importantly, we can become the sender and receiver of messages in perfect understanding.” Archangel Ariel states “matter, as you know it from the third dimension, is densification of Light ...

When you have a process of densification such as your Universe, you reach a point when it’s gone to maximum separation from the purest form of Light. At that point of maximum separation, a shift occurs, and the planet begins to reverse its process and start on what we would term a homeward route i.e. back to the One point.” Each time a planet ascends it changes its vibratory rate to be less dense and more light and it undergoes this process in its own unique way.

"Thousands of years ago, the Lamas discovered that all of the answers to life's imponderable mysteries are found within. They discovered that all of the things which go together to create our lives originate within the individual. Western man has never been able to understand and comprehend this concept. He thinks, as I did, that our lives are shaped by the uncontrollable forces of the material world. For example, most Westerners think it is a law of nature that our bodies must grow old and deteriorate. By looking within, the Lamas know this to be a self-fulfilling illusion.

"The Lamas, especially those at this particular monastery, are performing a great work for the world. It is performed, however, on the astral plane. From this plane, they assist mankind around the globe, for it is high above the vibrations of the physical world, and is a powerful focal point where much can be accomplished with little loss of effort.

"One day the world will awaken in amazement to see the result of great works performed by these Lamas and other unseen forces. The time is fast approaching when a new age will dawn, and a new world will be seen. It will be a time when man learns to liberate the powerful inner forces at his command to overcome war and pestilence, hatred and bitterness. "So-called 'civilized' mankind is in truth living in the darkest of dark ages. However, we are being prepared for better and more glorious things. Each one of us who strives to raise his or her consciousness to higher levels helps to elevate the consciousness of mankind as a whole. So, performing the five rites has an impact far beyond the physical benefits which they achieve."

I fixed in my mind the image of myself when I was in the prime of life. And I put energy in the form of very strong desire behind that image. The result is what you see now.

"For many people this would be a difficult feat, because they find it impossible to change the way they see themselves. They believe the body is programmed to sooner or later become old and feeble, and nothing will shake them from that view. In spite of this, once they begin to practice the five rites they will begin to feel younger and more energetic. This will help them to change the way they see themselves. Little by little, they will begin to see themselves as younger. And before long, others will be commenting that they have a younger appearance.

4. LIFE STYLE WITHOUT FOOD

SPHERES OF THE CONSCIOUSNESS

The Consciousness has no limits, so there is no place where it ends. Nevertheless, imagine that a border of some kind was inserted into the Consciousness so that a limited part of the Consciousness was enveloped to form a sphere. Explaining this in visual terms it can be said that a spherical border was inserted or was created inside of the Consciousness. Such an area I call a sphere of the Consciousness. This is what I mean when I say that a being (for example a human) lives in a sphere of the Consciousness. Unlimited number of spheres of the Consciousness can be created. People know and are able to describe some of the spheres: the existence, the growth, the instinct, the intellect and the intuition. Visually these spheres of the Consciousness can be shown as in the picture below.

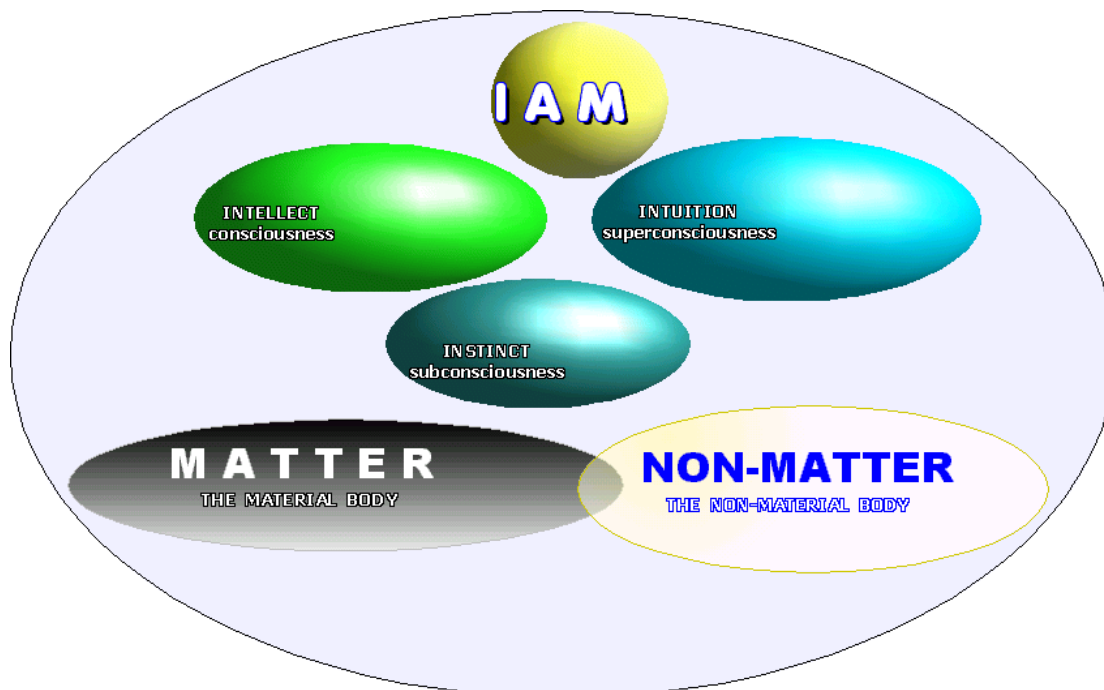

The Consciousness has no limits, so a being living in the Consciousness also is not limited in anything. Such a being is perfect in every way, is omnipotent, all-knowing and other all-(s). Limiting the Consciousness to a sphere makes the being, who is living in the sphere, imperfect (limited). Abilities of a being from a larger sphere of the Consciousness are wider, compared to a being from

WHAT THE HUMAN IS

The picture below is a rough visual representation of the elements making up the human. Many other beings living outside Earth look similar in graphic terms.

Now you can understand that every human and every other being live on Light. The Light creates and sustains Life. When you feel this process, then you say that you feel Love.

The Light and Love are manifestations of the Consciousness, in other words, the appearance of the Consciousness in the TAC. They are the same thing. The difference is not in the matter but in the way a being can perceive them. The Light is what he/she/it sees. The Love is what he/she/it feels.

FOR THE SCIENTIFICALLY MINDED

What does an electron eat so that it has lots of energy and it can live forever if nothing destroys it? How about the atoms of the human body? The human body is the most sophisticated integrated and self-controlling program-energetic-electronic-chemical-mechanical system known to man. Just the human body itself remains a largely unknown structure controlled by the mind. Studying physics, sacred geometry, chemistry, electronics and informatics allows a person to better understand the human mind and body. On the other hand, the more an open minded scientist is engaged in this research, the more he/she is willing to acknowledge "I know that I know nothing" .

5. Divine Nutrition: The Madonna Frequency & THE FOOD OF GODS

Brain Wave patterns and the Divine Nutrition Program:

Briefly, there are four main brain wave patterns which are:

- * the Beta brain wave pattern at 14 to 30 cycles per second – level 1;
- * the Alpha brain wave pattern at 8 to 13 cycles per second – level 2 & 3;
- * the Theta brain wave pattern at 4 to 7 cycles per second – level 2 & 3 - and lastly,
- * The Delta brain wave pattern at .5 to 3 cycles per second – level 3.

Although research on the differing type of brain wave patterns that occur between yogis and someone untrained in working with consciously altering their brain wave patterns, is now being done; what has not yet been explored is:-

What can happen within a human system when the slower in frequency, but higher in amplitude, brain wave patterns are sustained for long periods of time; in other words what happens to a person's life when they choose to anchor themselves in the Theta brain wave field? And ... How is this anchoring done? All of this will be discussed in later chapters but now let's address the gifts that life in the theta field can provide us with.

Paranormal Powers:

Research has found that when the Theta - Delta frequency pattern is held, the following attributes are evident in a person's life. These attributes are sometimes classified as paranormal powers that can be seen as:-

- * Pre-cognition – the ability to sense what is about to occur;
- * Telepathy – the ability to pick up unspoken mental-plane communications;
- * Bi-location – the ability to be in two places at once, or to send a holographic projection of oneself somewhere else;
- * Clairsentience and empathy – the ability to sense or feel what others are feeling;
- * Clairvoyance – the ability to see between the worlds with our third eye;
- * The ability to heal through touch or over distances plus much more.

The Theta – Delta pattern is the home of our latent paranormal abilities and when accessed allows our inner resources of Divine Nutrition to flow. In the metaphysical world, which power/s a person has often depends on the role they have agreed to play in the cycles of human evolution. When the Theta and the Delta brain wave patterns are sustained not only does the veil go down between the conscious and subconscious mind allowing reprogramming of the whole bio-system in a more effective way, but we also begin to tap into other realms of reality, where issues like the following become more real for us:

- * Divine radiance - where we can increase or decrease our auric emanations so that our presence nourishes others in a healthy way.
- * Divine intentions - where we understand the power of our intentions and will in cocreation and use them with wisdom for the good of all and are hence supported by powerful and nourishing universal forces.

- * Divine guidance - access to an inner plane system of reliable help.
- * Divine prosperity - access to all the abundance we need to be fulfilled on all levels.

- * Divine transmissions - the ability to enjoy two way communications with beings who are permanently anchored in the Theta – Delta field and to do so via empathic or telepathic means.

- * Divine co-creation - the ability to, and action of, creating in a way that stimulates and releases the highest potentialities into manifestation.

- * Divine Grace is an inexplicable energy that is incredible to experience, Grace is the oil that smoothes the way in life.

- * Divine communication – communion with the God within and the inner plane Holy Ones

- * Divine manifestation – the ability to recognize the will of the Creator and to manifest according to the Divine Plan's current agenda which is our conscious co-creation of paradise on earth.

- * Divine bliss – true emotional, mental and spiritual nourishment.

- * Divine nutrition as in pranic feeding and the freedom it brings

- * Divine revelation – the zone of true knowing beyond limited perceptions and realities.

WORD POWER Programming Codes:

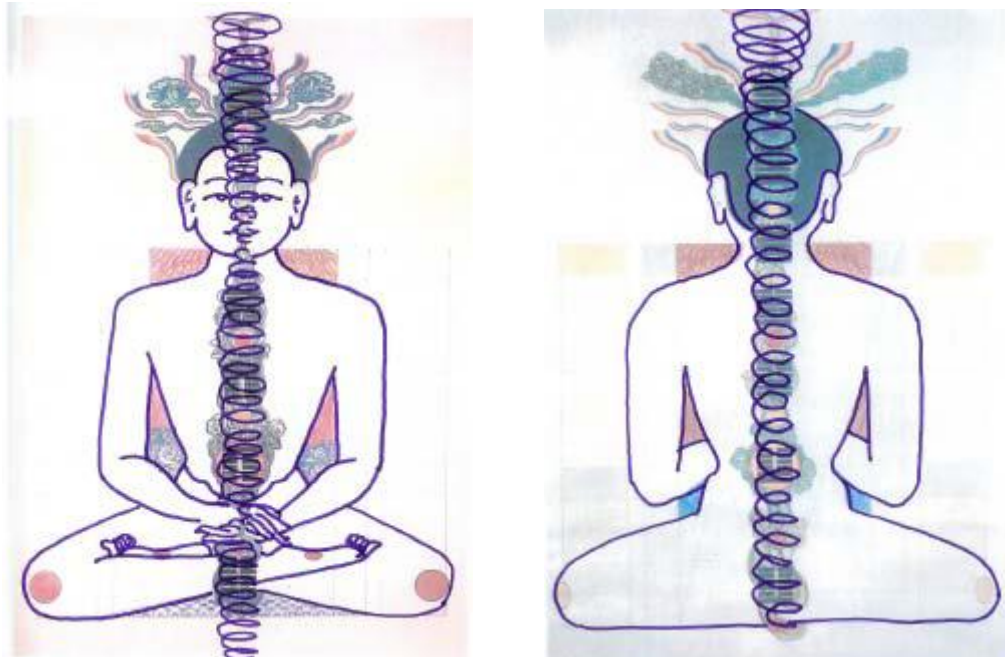

As we discussed in the book “In Resonance” specific sounds, sacred songs and antras have long been used to nourish the bio-system with certain frequencies. We know that the sound ‘Aum’ feeds the crown chakra energy centre by tuning it to the Divine wisdom channel.

We also know that the sound ‘Ahhh’ nourishes the heart chakra by tuning it to the divine Love channel particularly when used intermittently with the Love Breath meditation and its “I am love, I love’ mantra. Programming codes are in essence specific mantras or sentences that are used to reprogram the way the body consciousness sees itself and how it functions. One of the dynamics of Dimensional Biofield Science is the power of words – Shabda Yoga - and in order to successfully access the Food of Gods we need to understand the importance of imprinting the various energy fields with specific telepathic programs. It is assumed in metaphysical circles that the DOW is a being of supreme intelligence, love, wisdom, great integrity, compassion and all the other virtues we would assign to one made in the image of the God of Gods and that our DOW is one whom we can trust implicitly.

I consider the following tool one of the most powerful and important in the Divine Nutrition Program as it is from this Source of Divine Love, Divine Wisdom and Divine Power that a human bio-system can gain perfect nourishment.

The creation of one spinning chakra column of radiating Violet Light. Original drawing by Juan Li

OUR GLANDS

Activation of our Pituitary & Pineal Glands:

The Elements & The Fields:

- 1) Cosmic Monad: The first and unmanifest Logos which breaks into the seven elements of: Earth, fire, water, air, akasa & cosmic fire. It is the Cosmic Monad from which the Food of Gods flows in its purest form. At this level of frequency and purity, it is too refined for our bodies to cope with, without burning out the electrical circuitry of our system, and hence must be stepped down through the inner plane grids for human utilization. (We spoke at length about the grids in BB2).
- 2) Akasa: The origin of the Cosmic Soul; the source of all intelligent order and laws in the universe; the second and quasi-manifest Logos.
- 3) Cosmic Mind: The source of all individualized intelligence; the third and creative Logos. With the activation of our hypothalamus, pituitary and pineal glands plus the flooding of the cerebral cortex and the cerebellum and all areas of our brain with Violet Light, and via specific programming into both the glands and the chakras – the brow, crown and ascension chakra at the back of our head - we can align our 'human mind' functions to directly link into the Cosmic Mind.
- 4) Cosmic Karma: The source of pure impersonal, universal compassion; the source of the impelling cosmic energies of the universe; the intelligently guided force of the hierarchical universe. The Luscious Lifestyle Program points of 'vegetarian diet' and 'service without thought of reward' help us to hook into this channel.
- 5) Cosmic Vitality: The source of cosmic vitality, permeating in all things. Again as the essence of the quantum field, this is the energy band from where the Food of Gods flows most easily.
- 6) Astral Light: The lowest functioning aspect of Akasa; the equivalent in the cosmic hierarchy of what the astral model body is to humans; the reservoir of all psychic, moral and physical emanations of the Earth. It is on this wave length that the Food of Gods can flow into our physical form via the Violet Light and through the higher aspects of our awakened mind.
- 7) Physical Universe: The body or garment of the six more ethereal elements preceding it. These seven elements with their numberless sub-elements are aspects of the first element, the Cosmic Monad and are connected to the seven human senses, of which people who exist in the Beta field usually only use five. In order to access the channel of the Food of Gods, we need to activate our 6th and 7th senses and utilize the elements that work with them. The relationship between the elements and our physical senses are as follows: Astral light : hearing ; 2. Air : touch ; 3. Fire : sight ; 4. Water : taste ; 5. Earth : smell ; 6. Akasa : Intuition ; 7. Sea of Fire : Knowing

6. Scientific Chart of Germanic New Medicine

Dr. Hamer further discovered that the program that is initiated after a conflict-shock is dependent on the layer of the brain that is affected, something to be understood and explained from the point of view of evolution. The system makes sense both from a phylogenetic and an ontogenetic point of view. Dr. Hamer prefers to keep theory to a minimum and grounds all his observations and conclusions on hard, rock-solid empirical evidence, so we will be referring to ontogenesis in this summary.

For man and mammal, the oldest conflicts originate from the brain stem and result in cancerous growths - tumours. The resolution of these conflicts leads to a breakdown of the tumour and restoration of health. The old brain controls the organs of the endoderm, the innermost germ layer in our organism. This was the first system to appear in the embryo, later to be covered by the mesoderm and the ectoderm over several million years of evolution.

"Through the millennia, humanity has more or less consciously known that all diseases ultimately have a psychic origin and it became a "scientific" asset firmly anchored in the inheritance of universal knowledge; it is only modern medicine that has turned our animated beings into a bag full of chemical formulas."

All diseases start with a cold phase, activity of the parasympathetic nervous system predominates, the shock is a constant preoccupation, nights seem long, extremities are cold and meanwhile the organ lesion extends. With the brain stem (the old-brain - controller of the endodermal organs), a tumour is growing. If and when there is a conflict resolution or lysis (CL), the process will be reversed. The HH in the brain begins to heal, as does the organ. All physicians know that healing is accompanied by oedema. The oedema that develops around the focus ring in the brain becomes visible on X-rays or CT's and is usually misdiagnosed as a brain tumour. Dr. Hamer has firmly established that brain tumours do not exist in the traditional sense. All so-called brain tumours are oedematous HH's, the oedema remaining until healing of the tissue, after which the oedema is reabsorbed and final healing is complete. The oedematous nodes in the brain are concentrations of glia -- neuroglia-- used to repair the brain and neural tissue, not only in the brain, but also in many tissues. When healing is complete, after the healing crisis, the oedematous node is pressed out, a diuretic phase eliminates excess liquid from the organism and normal health is re-established.

Biological conflict is thus defined:

Any conflict of man or mammal resulting in a DHS. From a merely evolutionary point of view, biological conflicts are identifiable as archaic conflicts, analogous, in principle, for man and mammal. Animals experience most of these conflicts in real, physical terms, while man often does so in a transposed sense. An animal genuinely finds a morsel that it cannot swallow, a real chunk of food. For a person, this may be a valuable coin or a lottery ticket.

All relays in the brain stem refer to conflicts regarding grabbing a morsel, getting the morsel, swallowing it, digesting it, being able to separate it from the surrounding dirt, etc.

As an example, cancer of the collecting tubules of the kidneys is warning the organism against drying out - in cases of "refugee" conflicts, specifically "existence or isolation" conflicts - the urine becomes highly concentrated. The German New Medicine has been extremely successful in understanding the organism, in its diagnostic abilities and its therapeutic discipline. However, this success is perceived as a threat by the established profession and many roadblocks will have to be overcome before patients can reap these benefits.

Therapy:

As stated above, the system Dr. Hamer has pieced together has extraordinary diagnostic and therapeutic success. Although the system stands traditional medicine on its head, it does not invalidate many of its practices or most of the knowledge that has been accumulated. We now have a good understanding of the interconnections of all the knowledge and have reached sound and supportive conclusions for patients.

The CT of a patient's brain in standard layers is currently one of the powerful methods of diagnosis. Equipped with that, the few doctors who practise or are allowed to practise German New Medicine can interpret a person's current state of events. Further dialogue between the person and the physician or attending practitioner can lead to working on the resolution of whatever conflicts may still be in development.

For a situation arising with the conflict resolution or the healing phase, the physician will be able to determine the seriousness of the potential healing crisis and will assist with therapy during the recovery phase that may pose dangers in many cases. Both medicine and alternative therapies are very well equipped to help in these stages, aiming to restore the body to health with only the absolutely necessary intervention required to prevent life threatening situations.

It is fundamentally important that patients understand the way the body really works, and how they can work with their practitioner-friend to restore health.

7. The Hidden Messages in Water

It was 1994 when the idea to freeze water and observe it with microscope came upon me. With this method, I was convinced that I should be able to see something like snow crystals. After two months of trial and error, this idea bore fruit. The beautifully shining hexagonal crystals were created from the invisible world. My staff at the laboratory and I were absorbed in it and began to do many researches.

At first, we strenuously observed crystals of tap water, river water, and lake water. From the tap water we could not get any beautiful crystals. We could not get any beautiful ones from rivers and lakes near big cities, either. However, from the water from rivers and lakes where water is kept pristine from development, we could observe beautiful crystals with each one having its own uniqueness.

The observation was done in various ways:

1. Observe the crystal of frozen water after showing letters to water
2. Showing pictures to water
3. Playing music to water
4. Praying to water

In all of these experiments, distilled water for hospital usage produced by the same company was used. Since it is distilled twice, it can be said that it is pure water.

The result was that we always observed beautiful crystals after giving good words, playing good music, and showing, playing, or offering pure prayer to water.

On the other hand, we observed disfigured crystals in the opposite situation. Moreover, we never observed identical crystals.

I published these results as photograph collections: “Messages from Water 1” (1999), “Messages from Water 2” (2002), “Messages from Water 3” (2004), and “Messages from Water 4” (2008). (All of them are published from Hado Kyoiku-Sha.)

Then in November 2001, “Water Knows the Answer” (Sunmark Publishing) was published not as a photograph collection but as explanatory book. Many of you may know that these books have become bestseller not only in Japan but also rather in overseas. It is “beauty” if I were asked about the selection criteria of crystals.

This world is filled with wonders and mysteries that get more incomprehensible if we try to think of a reason. In a familiar situation, for example, why do dogs exist and why do cats exist? Why do mice exist and why do snakes exist? Why are there cherry blossom trees and why are there willow trees? What is a human being in the first place? As such, there are so many incomprehensible things that we cannot understand at all.

Thus, except for some of truly basic things, no one disagrees that there are still so many unknowns. Probably we understand 3%. In other words, I think 97% is unknown. The reason why the number is 3% is that the research of geneticists revealed the level of our DNA activation is 3%.

I believe the original idea of creation by the creator of this universe was “the pursuit of beauty.” Everything is combination of energetic vibration. As vibration resonates, it makes some tangible objects.

Combination of non-resonating vibration can result in destructive energy, and nothing can be created out of it. When some vibration and the other resonate each other, it always creates beautiful design. Thus, most of the Earth is covered with beautiful nature.

That is why scientists, philosophers, and religionists pursue for unknown facts. Is it presumptuous to suggest them taking paths with “the pursuit of beauty” in mind as a means to confirm their right paths?

There are approximately 7 billion people exist on this Earth now. I think there is one common standard we share although our skin colors, languages, religious beliefs may be different. I think that is the standard of “beauty”.

However, the deep pursuit of beauty is slightly different depending on experience, age, and personality. That is why many types of wonderful artists who pursue the secrets of beauty always appear in the human history one after another.

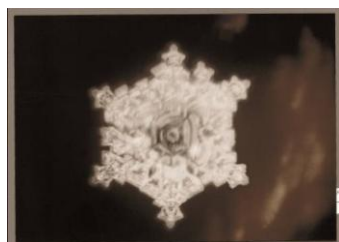

Therefore, the photograph of crystals is neither science nor religion. I hope it is enjoyed as a new type of art. Nevertheless, the world it shows is truth, and there is no doubt that many messages essential to our lives are hidden in it.

“Hado creates words Words are the vibrations of nature Therefore beautiful words create beautiful nature Ugly words create ugly nature. This is the root of the universe.”

The Japanese researcher in question is Dr. Masaru Emoto, chief of the Hado institute in Tokyo. He is the author of many books concerning the phenomenon of 'Hado'. The two ideograms comprising this expression Hado (pronounced hadou to rhyme with shadow) literally mean "wave" and "move". This following definition is how Dr. Emoto himself describes the phenomenon, which led him to a series of remarkable discoveries pertaining to the nature of water. Hado: The intrinsic vibrational pattern at the atomic level in all matter. The smallest unit of energy. Its basis is the energy of human consciousness.

A rapid understanding of Hado quickly spread throughout Japan as Dr. Emoto's theory gained ground. The word subsequently became part of daily language. "The Hado of this place is really low. Let's leave." "That person has a really powerful Hado." "Let's change the Hado of this environment." Conversational pieces such as this now abound in Japan and it is largely due to his revolutionary photographs of water crystals under high magnification. Frozen crystals of water:

8. The Cure for all Diseases

According to Clark, all disease is caused by foreign organisms and pollutants that damage the immune system. She asserted that eliminating parasites, bacteria and viruses from the body using herbal remedies or electrocution while removing pollutants from the diet and the environment would cure all diseases.

In her book The Cure For All Cancers, Clark postulated all cancers are caused by the flatworm Fasciolopsis buski. However, this worm does not live in the USA or Europe but mainly in India, parts of China, Vietnam and other east-Asian countries, and only in rural areas where people are eating unboiled food from water plants, or where pigs live close to humans. Clark also said that HIV is a worm virus and that the worm is responsible for AIDS: "I find it in every case of HIV, Alzheimer's disease. Without this parasite you can't get HIV." [citation needed] According to Clark, depression is caused by hookworms. Epilepsy and seizures are caused by swelling in the brain, attracting calcium and heavy metals, created by the parasite ascaris as well as by malvin, a natural dye found in strawberries, chicken, and eggs. Clark claimed she could actually cure all diseases whereas, she asserted, conventional treatments for diseases, such as cancer and HIV/AIDS, often only aim to relieve symptoms. She was described in the book Denying AIDS as "perhaps the first quack AIDS curer." David Amrein's website contains a disclaimer stating that her treatments are "not prescribed as treatment for medical or psychological conditions" and "...the treatments outlined herein are not intended to be a replacement or substitute for other forms of conventional medical treatment." Nonetheless, Clark advocated for the use of her methods as a substitute for standard medical care:

Does this mean you can cancel your date for surgery, radiation or chemotherapy? YES! After curing your cancer with this recipe it cannot come back... Remember that oncologists are kind, sensitive, compassionate people. They want the best for you. They have no way of knowing about the true cause and cure of cancer since it has not been published for them.

Regarding the effectiveness of her treatment, Clark wrote, "The method is 100% effective in stopping cancer regardless of the type of cancer or how terminal it may be. It follows that this method must work for you, too, if you are able to carry out the instructions."

9. Heal Your Body

RECENTLY DUBBED "the closest thing to a living saint" by the Australian media, Louise L. Hay is also known as one of the founders of the self-help movement. Her first book, Heal Your Body, was published in 1976, long before it was fashionable to discuss the connection between the mind and body. Revised and expanded in 1988, this best-selling book introduced Louise's concepts to people in 33 different countries and has been translated into 25 languages throughout the world.

Through Louise's healing techniques and positive philosophy, millions have learned how to create more of what they want in their lives, including more wellness in their bodies, minds, and spirits. Her own personal philosophy was forged from her tormented upbringing. Her childhood was unstable and impoverished, and her teen years were marked by abuse. Louise ran away from home and ended up in New York City, where she became a model and married a prosperous businessman. Although it appeared that her life had turned around, it was not until the marriage ended 14 years later that her healing really began.

Louise started what would become her life's work in New York City in 1970. She attended meetings at the Church of Religious Science and began training in the ministerial program. She became a popular speaker at the church, and soon found herself counseling clients. This work quickly blossomed into a full-time career. After several years, Louise compiled a reference guide detailing the mental causes of physical ailments, and developed positive thought patterns for reversing illness and creating health. This compilation was the basis for Heal Your Body, also known affectionately as "the little blue book." She began traveling throughout the United States, lecturing and facilitating workshops on loving ourselves and healing our lives. Louise was able to put her philosophies into practice when she was diagnosed with cancer. She considered the alternatives to surgery and drugs, and instead developed an intensive program of affirmations, visualization, nutritional cleansing, and psychotherapy. Within six months, she was completely healed of cancer.

In 1980, Louise moved back to her native Southern California, and it was here that she began putting her workshop methods on paper. In 1984, her new book, You Can Heal Your Life, was published. In it, Louise explains how our beliefs and ideas about ourselves are often the cause of our emotional problems and physical maladies and how, by using certain tools, we can change our thinking and our lives for the better. You Can Heal Your Life reached the New York Times bestseller list and remained on it for 13 consecutive weeks. More than 50 million copies of You Can Heal Your Life have been sold throughout the world. Twenty years later, due to her appearances on the Oprah Winfrey Show, You Can Heal Your Life was again on the New York Times bestseller list. The first time in that publication's history that has happened!

In 1985, Louise began her famous support group, "The Hayride," with six men diagnosed with AIDS. By 1988, the group had grown to a weekly gathering of 800 people and had moved to an auditorium in West Hollywood. Once again, Louise had started a movement of love and support long before people began to wear red ribbons in their lapels. It was during this time that she wrote The AIDS Book: Creating a Positive Approach, based on her experiences with this powerful group.

10. The Secret Life of Plants

The Secret Life of Plants (1973) is a book by Peter Tompkins and Christopher Bird. Fascinating Account of the Physical, Emotional, and Spiritual Relations Between Plants and Man. The book documents controversial experiments that reveal unusual phenomena regarding plants such as plant sentience, discovered through experimentation. It goes on to discuss philosophies and progressive farming methods based on these findings.

Exploring the world of plants and its relation to mankind as revealed by the latest discoveries of scientists, The Secret Life of Plants includes remarkable information about plants as lie detectors and plants as ecological sentinels; it describes their ability to adapt to human wishes, their response to music, their curative powers, and their ability to communicate with man. Authors Peter Tompkins and Christopher Bird suggest that the most far-reaching revolution of the 20th century — one that could save or destroy the planet — may come from the bottom of your garden.

"If I can't 'get inside a plant' or 'feel emanations' from a plant and don't know anyone else who can. that doesn't detract one whit from the possibility that some people can and do. . . .

According to The Secret Life of Plants, plants and men do inter-relate, with plants exhibiting empathetic and spiritual relationships and showing reactions interpreted as demonstrating physical-force connections with men. As my students say, 'hey, wow!'"

The book includes summaries of the life and work of 20th century scientists Jagdish Chandra Bose and Corentin Louis Kervran as well as 19th century scientist George Washington Carver. The book also discusses alternative philosophy and practice on soil and soil health, as well as on alternative farming methods. Pseudoscientific topics such as magnetotropism, bio-electrics, aura, psychophysics, orgone energy, radionics, kirlian photography, and dowsing are discussed. One of the book's controversial claims is that plants may be sentient despite their lack of a nervous system and a brain.

The book includes experiments on plant stimuli using a polygraph, a method which was pioneered by Cleve Backster. The book is generally regarded as pseudoscientific by skeptics and scientists. Parts of the book attempt to disparage science, particularly plant biology, for example by claiming science is not concerned with "what makes plants live", in order to promote its own viewpoint that plants have emotions. The authors further say the authorities are unable to accept that emotional plants "might originate in a supramaterial world of cosmic beings which, as fairies, elves, gnomes, sylphs, and a host of other creatures, were a matter of direct vision and experience to clairvoyants among the Celts and other sensitives."

11. The Creation of Health

A collaboration between a traditionally trained physician and a medical intuitive, The Creation of Health illuminates the deep connection between emotional dysfunction and physical illness. It describes the role that emotional disturbances play in the most common diseases and ailments, from influenza, the common cold, and arthritis to diabetes, heart disease, and cancer.

After providing an introduction to intuitive medicine and its history, method of diagnosis, and relationship to traditional medicine, Myss and Shealy detail the deeper emotional and psychic reasons why illness develops in the body. Dr. Shealy offers a traditional account of a particular disease or ailment, while Dr. Myss sheds light on the deeper emotional and psychic causes through her corresponding energy analysis.

Confirming the link between illness and emotion, The Creation of Health puts forth a groundbreaking vision of holistic healing.

What is the source of enlightenment?// What is free will? // If I'm not at peace, you can't be at peace. // My only purpose for being on this planet is to let go of the garbage in order to be free.

How does the healing happen? It happens within me, my inner child and it's not a mental engagement. // Our programs go back to the beginning of existence. // I'm not here to heal others, I'm here to work on myself. When you are at zero, you see god in everything // Working with criminally insane.

What is happening in me that I am experiencing you in this way? // The problems that we experience are within ourselves and the tragedy is that we don't know that.

// There is no such thing as intention.// My job is to appeal to divinity to delete data, it is divinity's job to actually delete it.

Cut aka cords to give freedom to those you love, give up all memories to experience them as god.// More people around the world are willing to do the cleaning. // Promotion is manipulation.

No such thing as an inanimate object, everything has a subconscious. Can talk with camera, chair, nails, all things have those three selves.// Angelic kingdom helping.

Regarding women's hatred of men... menopause is rage towards men that could be cleaned.// We have an addiction to engaging in stories. We need to just let go. // Who am I? An exact copy of source. Each person has a unique purpose that only they can fulfill.

Ho'oponopono (ho-o-pono-pono) is an ancient Hawaiian practice of reconciliation and forgiveness. Similar forgiveness practices were performed on islands throughout the South Pacific, including Samoa, Tahiti and New Zealand. Traditionally ho'oponopono is practiced by healing priests or kahuna lapa'au among family members of a person who is physically ill. Modern versions are performed within the family by a family elder, or by the individual alone.

If you let the material stuff go completely, have no attachment, feel comfortable with losing everything then whatever comes back to you will be a true gift and you will feel deserving of it. You can't lose everything. You have nothing already. These "things" are illusions within you. You have created them and you suffer already even though no decision is made.

Clean on this question "Why am I so attached to material things?" The only "thing" that matters is your relationship with God and no one can give that to you and no one can take it away. To paraphrase Abraham (Esther Hicks-Laws of Attraction): "If you go to the beach in your mind even though you are not allowed to go there physically you will go there anyway. No one can stop you from going anywhere in your imagination. This is a double sided coin. Right now you are going to the idea of lack and loss. If you give it ALL away right now, either for real or in your imagination and feel grateful for your relationship with the Divine Creator no one will be able to take anything away. If you are in a state of feeling lack the Universe may decide to keep you there until you learn the lesson. What a gift.

13. Energy Medicine: Balancing Your Body's Energies for Optimal Health, Joy, and Vitality, Donna Eden

Participate more fully in your OWN healing by learning how to clear, balance, and direct the natural energies in your body.

In this updated and expanded edition of her alternative-health classic, Eden shows readers how they can understand their body's energy systems to promote healing.

Energy Medicine has been called the "Gray's Anatomy of the subtle body." It weaves together the author's fascinating story, the invisible world of the energies which she works, pertinent research, cross cultural understanding, spell-binding case histories, and most important a systematic and comprehensive program for self-healing and for "keeping your energies humming."

The book includes key insights such as:

Rapidly identifying your energy imbalances
Using Energy Medicine with other medical treatments
Preparation and recovery from an operation
Alleviating side effects of medications or radiation or chemotherapy
Updated easy to follow exercises for clearing the bodies energies
Diagrams mapping Energy Medicine with Chinese acupressure points
Working with the "electrics" energy system, which ties other energy systems together

14. The Promise of Energy Psychology: Revolutionary Tools for Dramatic Personal Change, Donna Eden

This groundbreaking book explains how to tap into your body's energy not only to change your health, but to change your behaviors and thought patterns as well.

Your body is comprised of energy pathways and energy centers that are in constant motion, a dynamic interplay with other energies and with your cells, organs, immune system, mood, and thoughts. If you can shift these energies, you can influence your physical health, your emotional patterns, and your state of mind.

The Promise of Energy Psychology gives simple step-by-step instructions that will help you to:

- overcome fear, guilt, shame, jealousy, or anger
- change unwanted habits and behaviors
- enhance your ability to love, succeed, and enjoy life

The energy approach presented in this book can help bring about significant change in your life. With this strategy, stubborn phobias often fade in minutes; the lifelong effects of an early trauma can frequently be reduced or completely eliminated; uncontrollable anger can rapidly become manageable; even elusive physical problems may respond where other treatments have failed.

The Promise of Energy Psychology is an amazing tool that puts the ability to effect change directly into your hands, and finally gives you control over your fears, pain, and destructive behaviors.

Stuck in unwanted behaviors or habits? Tap into your body's energy to change your behaviors and thought patterns.

15. Medicina e le sette leggi universali

A new therapeutic method which is based on the basic conception which combines the three different and related aspects of the human being: mind, soul, and physical body. As part of his clinical work, he uses the Seventh Sense as extra sensorial perception (ESP) in order not only to arrive at the physical medical diagnosis but to individualize the psychological conflict which is the root of the changes in the vital energy which lead to physical body disease.

Since medical school, Dr. Butto has emphasized the importance of the spiritual aspect and has been drawn towards holistic medicine. After specializing in cardiology, he has continued to seek knowledge that will fill the gaps of conventional medicine. With the Seventh Sense, he developed an energetic method that tracks down emotional conflict (and its state) which has caused the energetic block and that has eventually evolved as a physical illness. This unique method opens the energetic block and washes the body with a flow of life, energy, and vitality.

Over the past few years, Dr. Butto has been giving lectures on his method “Unified Integrative Medicine” in Israel, Italy, and Spain Germany, Switzerland as well as practical workshops to psychologists, physicians, and therapists in Italy Germany, Switzerland and Spain. Dr. Butto spends his time both as a conventional physician specializing in invasive cardiology on the one hand and biodynamic-energetic and clinical therapy on the other hand.

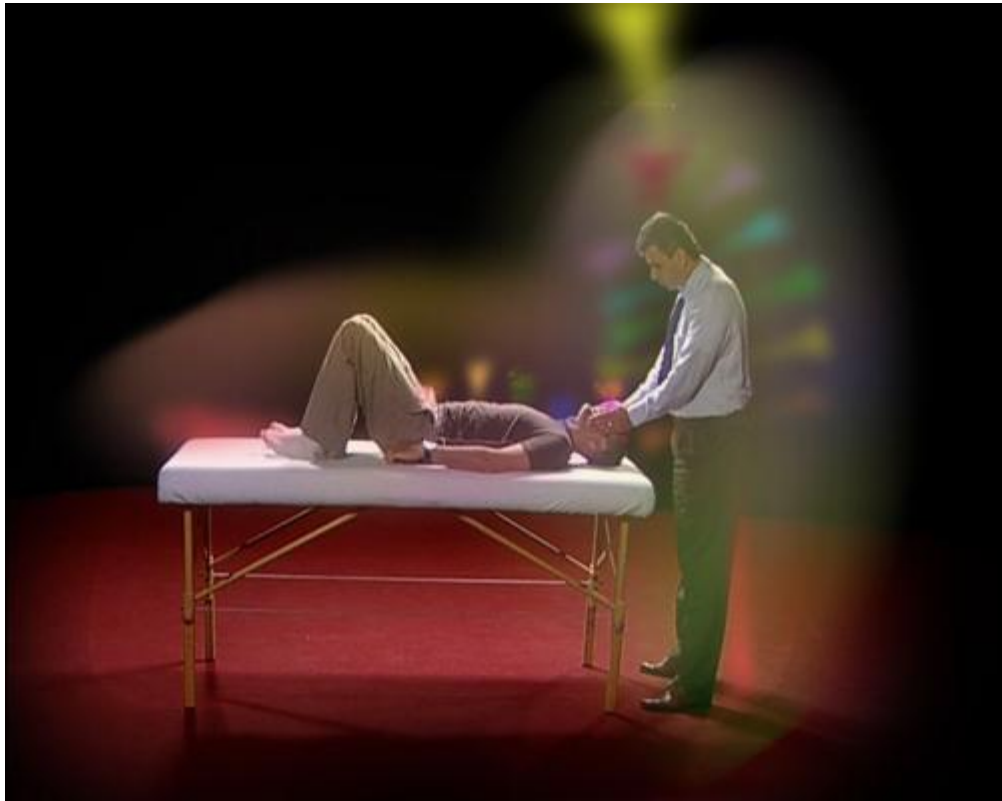

In October 1998, his book was published in Italy. This book is a product of his experience putting together the three dimensions of the human entity: mind, soul, and the physical body as a new approach for medical practice. Dr. Butto has a wide following in Italy, his book “IL SETTIMO SENSO” is a best seller since 1999, and his second book "Medicina Universale e il settimo Senso" and his book in Israel “Medicine and the Seventh's Sense” is a best seller since its publication in 2002 . In decembe 2007 published his second book in Israel : Medicine and the Seven Universal Laws.

Energy wash-out is a therapy technique aimed to release the subtle-energetic blockages of the energy centers (charkas), meridians and renew the energy flow between the major poles. It is to release the emotional trauma from the past that is blocked in the physical body tissue. As a result, a higher state of harmony and wholeness in the body-mind-soul are achieved.

The energy wash-out therapy technique incorporates four perspective:

1. Subtle-energetic - involves the two major poles, charkas, meridians and the magnetic field around the body
2. Mental-emotional - Stress-response reduction, mental-emotional stability, and mindfulness/centered-ness
3. Physical body - recovery from grave illness, injury, and disorder

4. Deep-spiritual - renewal of well being, self-realization, and spiritual upliftment

During the therapy session, a patient may experience emotions associated with long-buried painful experiences and issues which float as emotional explosions such as laughing, crying or yelling. These emotions, may arise as part of natural and quite safe processes of self-healing and clearing. The physical sensations in parts or all of the body, such as tingling, physical tremor may precede or may be associated with the emotional expression. When the lower body tremor that appears in the legs occurs that is the final sign of complete energetic release. The goal is for all patients to achieve this release.

Following their therapy sessions the patient feels more at ease, clean, free, centered, and mindful. In such harmonious states, life energies are better conserved, less dispersed or exhausted, with high vitality, mental resourcefulness, sharper perception, emotional stability so that they can be invested and expressed in the self realization process.

16. DNA experiments by Gregg Braden

There are three astonishing experiments with DNA which proves that DNA can heal itself according to the "feelings" of the individual as reported recently by Gregg Braden. In his recent program entitled Healing Hearts/Healing Nations: The Science of Peace and the Power of Prayer, Gregg Braden discussed how in the past we lost huge amounts of information from ancient spiritual traditions (when the library at Alexandria burned we lost at least 532,000 documents), and that there may be information in those traditions which could help us understand some of the mysteries of science. To this end he reported on three very interesting experiments. Gregg Braden started off as a scientist and engineer, before he began pursuing these larger questions.

So here's your protection for whatever comes: Find something to be happy about every day, and every hour if possible, moment-to-moment, even if only for a few minutes. This is the easiest and best protection you can have. If nothing else, be joyous that the criminals have "already been caught" by the Universe!

Main Research

Energetic Healing by human frequency enhancement and deepening conscience

Have you ever pondered how come we look the way we are, we behave the way we are, we respond the way we are, what is possible for me is this or that and how come it's so difficult to rise above the current myself and break through the barriers. Well these barriers exist but not physically they are energetic barriers and are the sum total of what we have come to in our current existence. It includes the physical genetic and the energy genetics and above it the wholesome of our actions, thoughts, beliefs and projections. These are the factors that make us who we are for good and for bad.

So it can be described in the following way:

*The way
we look
and act*

The physical genetic which determines the physical appearance, what we are likely more to do, people to be with, interesting hobbies, studying and so on. It is influenced by our ancestors, our parents and our place of living

The way we feel and are excited

What affects our choices in terms of Religion, nationality, family business and interests, our couples, the way we treat our children and the family and to the gender that we are part of.

The way we respond and react

What kind of fears and influences will be more effective upon us, what kind of skills we will inquire in order to overcome difficulties and manage our life and how we will respond when we are accused or praised.

*How we
possibilities*

What tools we will use in order in order to succeed in the personal level, family life, with friends, in business, how much we will be ready to breakthrough into a new and challenging territories, how much will be able to achieve new kind of energy.

How we think and research

What are the significant perceptions and the conditionings for us. What we will love to read and study and figure out, what kind of questions we will ask ourselves.

Every single level influence and causes interlacement with other levels in us and eventually update our genetic through each of the levels by influencing the whole assembly out of reciprocal communion (after we have seen where it emanate from). How can we research ourselves without the genetic influences upon us. How can we locate ourselves and find who we are amongst this huge assembly and levels and dictate our planetary part each second. The way to handle it is different from one person to the other and we need to add to it the influence of the soul and the spirit that we have been given and the mind and the mentality which are the results of all the current genetic influences and whatever we have done through our life. In order to understand better about ourselves and what we were made for we need to begin much further backward before the time of our arrival on earth in the current life and accept hints concerning our journey in the wider creation. Now even if we find one clue it can open a new energetic path by which we can use to reform and renew whatever we are doing here and now. This is one option how we change and reprint our genetic with a new and significant thing because it will influence whatever will continue and pass over to the coming generations and perhaps even now on the genetics of other people even those we don't even know DNA experiments.

Beyond what was written the question arises about the new genetic we are about to find, what will it be, how it can be adjusted to what is needed next? How much effort do we wish to apply into growing up in a confident way towards all aspects of life and what can assist us to experience the reality and the treasure it holds inside. Every cell in the body has a genetic code; every cell in the brain has a genetic code, every inner quality has an energy genetic code which goes all the way through creation, can we find a common language where everyone will understand all or perhaps we can deal with each genetic separately? Both ways are possible, especially when we know the source of the difficulty or to the breakthrough we are trying to do and can't, we will use the same focal center. Where the source or the complexity of the symptom is big we can use the soul as the orchestrator (cobwebs and tears -1-) and by it to cause the change, improvement and update. Every process has in it a parallel opposite one and when something influences from the future, something in the past has to breakout in order to allow it to exist in the future. That is why every time we overcome something it is a challenge which affects not only our human assembly but everyone else's assembly.

God is building infrastructures in many levels that allow the possibilities for things to occur and exist from the physical level until the highest energy level that is in creational level. The fact is that we are born into an upgrading system and are invited to learn the means and way in order to climb upward into the higher levels. Actually what happens is different because from the time we are born we are exposed to a different means and ways which are local and well cultural and related mainly to the planetary level and existence rather than the wholesome existence which moves to a local side issue and forget about the rest. Now is the time to realize and open to the higher everlasting infrastructures in the form of permanent connection and give to the same higher energetic combinations take us forward and allow it to reconnect and update our genetic code so it can hold the new possibilities that the universe is processing and needs the human to be part of. So what we are saying here that in order to expose ourselves into higher realms we need to have a wider and enhanced look into our life using the higher faculties that we have in order to choose them and use them to exercise our complex and to realize how important they are so we can become updated and in a building up process to allow new connections and alignment towards the future and the realms of the coming future.

Conscious levels

The human is different than other forms of known life like inanimate life, flora life, fauna life; there is similarity in physical existence and sensing to enable basic needs for staying alive which the main motif is food, protection, sex and basic conscious with the surrounding. It is possible with the right kind of education to open up into higher more advanced expressions of awareness which through them it is possible to allow new intelligence and understanding about life and the energy worlds. Mainly it will be about the higher realms of creation and human life. In that case the dealing is not with surviving physically but volunteering the higher faculties to take part in a profound mission which is beyond the time of our life. So we mean dwelling time and exploration about the human life deal which is related to higher aspects of life and destiny where the way to respond to things is by values, disciplines, beliefs, standards, qualities and deeper feelings. This later can be translated into usable things in daily life as a further extension.

The human has 3 levels of consciousness (cobwebs and tears -1-) the daily life conscious which we use to deal with whatever is approaching us and we are aware of. The semi-conscious which is collecting all the things we were not aware of or we didn't manage to respond at the spot. The un-conscious which contains all the stuff that we were not aware of or couldn't deal with or it was too strong for us or difficult to handle. Therefore it is much harder to know what is hiding there and it can surprise us every time when things are release from it into our life and expresses them. It can come out as an outburst on something unimportant or come out as a phrase of breaking all the rules and going away and so on. These are the holdings of all what is being processed in the human complex all the days of the existence and sometimes we are exposes to part of it in the dreams or in extreme situations.

Psychological level

In every process we tackle we get the influence and direction according to what we have already experienced in the past and according to the possibilities that we are exposed to in daily life. The usual way is to try and grow from what we have already been and done and the way it can be achieves is by expanding and deepening and finding ways to being exposed to new possibilities and knowledge of what is related to us, our family, the surrounding, the nation, religion and history and our gender. It is a whole scale of psychological influences that is there on us in every action we try to do.

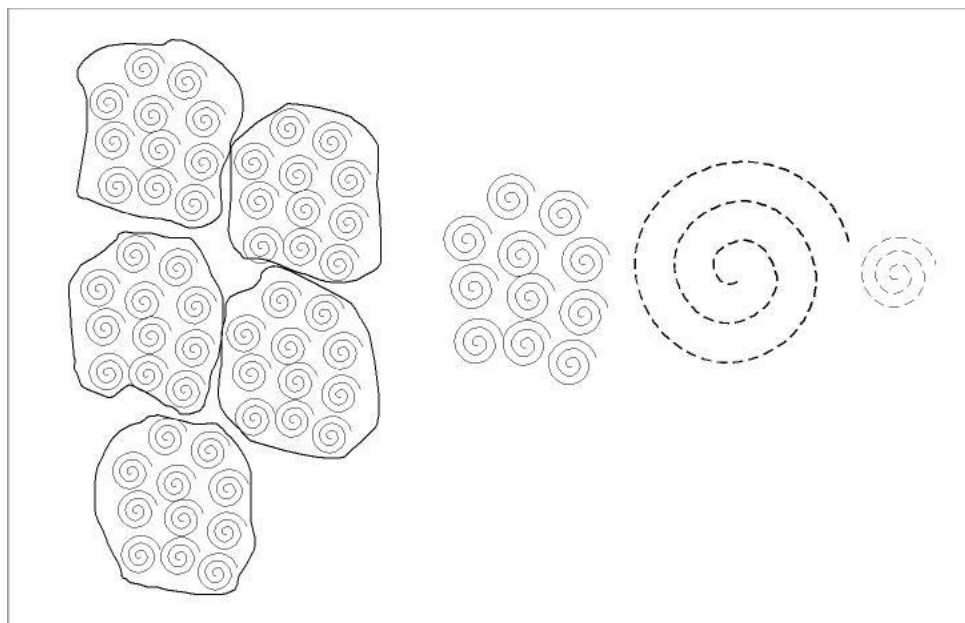

Self Energy Healing

This is a basic tool to be able to help other people, take care of yourself so that you can help others. The healing is done in few levels and influences the 5 centers (cobwebs and tears): physical body, emotional, sexual, mental etc. its aim is to bring enhancement and a mediator for these energies to influence others. The healing happens from high to low the same as physical water and the strengthening is to bring enlighten into the murky and les shining radiation. It is like taking a big light and putting it in the room so all that was settled in the dark will leave. The teaching of healing can happen in transference of the essence and it demands an openness and alignment with higher causes and reasoning about the enigma of life and exposed enough time to the influence of it.

The Human Physical system and Energy system

In order to begin let's start with the energy level of things:

Every living cell has the need for energy which can be in the physical level and in the energy level. The physical energies are known to us because they are tangible like gasoline for cars food for the flora and fauna and people. What about higher level of food which is known as impressions. We know that without physical food a human can survive few weeks, without water few days, without air few minutes and without impression it is few seconds... This means all energy impressions like thoughts and any other frequencies. So we are all relied upon impressions and the question is what kind of impressions and in what level. Those energy influences are part of a bigger world and they have different levels and powers, there are babies, fathers, clusters multi-clusters and more, see picture number 3.

These are blockages and disturbances and disabilities which prevents the energy to arrive successfully to the person. Usually it forms up a disease so that the person will re-engage with himself to it will be solved.

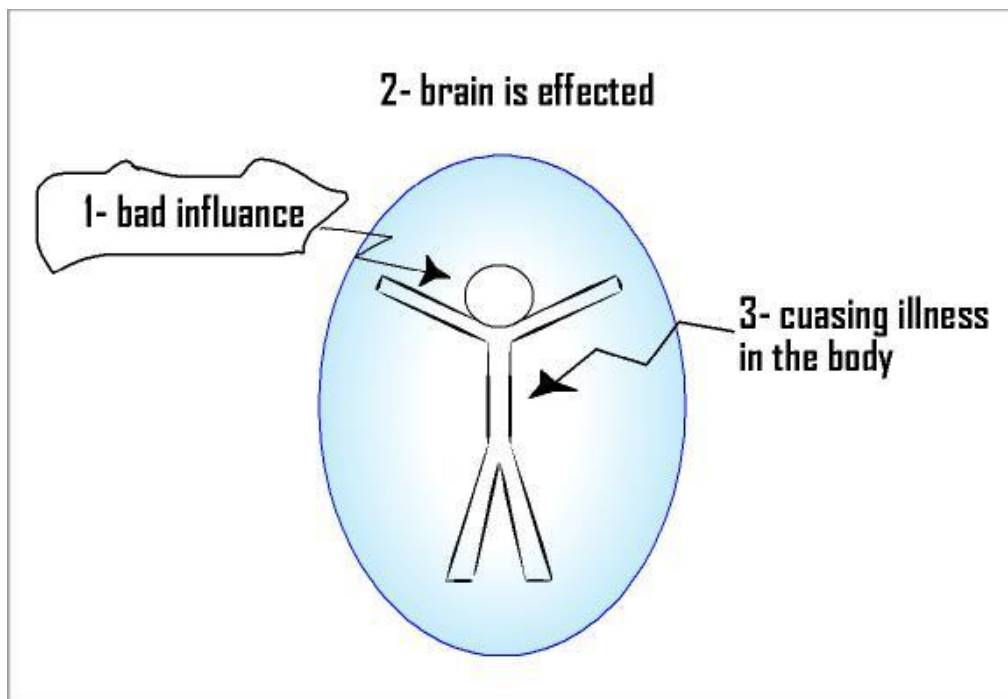

Here are few energy systems that we process:

- Physical level – Infrastructure energy for the biological cells and body mainly physical

- Emotional level – Feelings and sensations in the system can be felt like vibrations or nervous or electrical currents in the body or head
- Mental level – Thoughts and ideas which are activated by neurons
- Aura energy – Lightening the atmosphere of the human which can be like falling in love feelings
- Soul energy – Condensed energy and radiation

The human being arrives from a place of no difficulty and no problems it is a pure scenario arrival. From the time of conception it starts to gather energy experience and influence. It includes all activities including the parent's activities and the national occasions. All this accumulate into the child aura.

When something bad happens it influence the well being of the aura by causing murky color into it or even creating an energy hole. This can increase to a disease or energy blockage in the complex that can cause a mental illness and affects the brain which will lead to physical illness (Scientific Chart of Germanic New Medicine).

Picture 4

The connection with the core of life of the person and to love and compassion can enhance the flow of energy into the system.

Energy thinking

The thinking system is influencing the human complex from the mind to the brain activity and the physical body as a result of the activity of a certain area in the brain. Every signal that we process has a resonance to the brain circuits that are related to that signal which create chemical and biological reactions that influence the relative area in the body which helps the human to become aware of the level of the local senses what is going on. Therefore for example sexual thought will influence the sexual energy that will cause the sexual center to respond which can be from brilliant ideas level to lower sex level. Another example is an emotional blockage that will affect the emotional energy and will cause hyperactive responses and impulsiveness and in the physical level can result in soar throat or coughing.

Conflicts or difficulties that take place a long time will result in all kinds of diseases like migraines cancer allergies, skin rash and so on. It is already researched and discovered in the new medicine theory (Scientific Chart of Germanic New Medicine) that according to the physical evidence it is possible to know which part of the brain was affected and what kind of conflict caused the illness. It can be shown in CT pictures of the brain where that conflict is located and according to it is possible to foresee which result will happen to the growth of more cells or reduction of cells in the related place in the body. When the conflict will be solved there will be a healing crisis which afterwards the brain will send relevant microbes to reduce the unnecessary cells and at this stage it will be considered as a disease. The healing crisis can be very strong especially when the conflict lasted long time. As a result the person will go to be checked to find out what is wrong with his body where the problem is much away from the physical body level.

The law of continuous balancing

Everything aspires to be in balance. When a person is full of something it is balanced for him and it's the same for good and for bad. When a person wishes to acquire for himself something higher or refined he needs to enter a process where he will be able to contain that energy. When the new energy starts to accumulate in himself, he will need to reject some of the energies that already are in him to make some room. This can cause a feeling of grief or separation or new change to what needs to get rid of. This is a way to say good bye to some parts that belong to the past and to get charged with the new energy and keep on doing it until it reaches a new point of balance in which the old balance point and energy level will want to return and recapture their place. For example when wanting to change the food that we use to eat, change the way we brush our teeth and quit smoking. The idea is to create a new balance point because there isn't intermediate state so we need continuous efforts.

The same is with the maturity when the child goes into missions that will turn him into adulthood and then he reacts from his new phase of becoming an adult but still can behave childish from time to time but not totally childish. When a woman is reaching her menopause she turns into a new stage in life where she is being opened to higher view and becomes a lady. It happens to men as well in a different way and they may become gentlemen. After a critical mass of influences that a person goes through the person elevate into a new stage where he can have new characters and behavioral patterns which if done in the right attitude will be the best for the person's faculty's improvement. Part of the energy enhancement charges the person with the right kind of energy that can uplift him from the critical threshold to make a permanent change which is what we see in stopping smoking, kicking a habit, food consumptions and wanting to do a different role in life.

Things want to continue working in the way they are done in the level of nourishment, thoughts, habits, consciousness and so on, for example: When there is a first opinion about someone or something – we will try to justify and preserve it and see things through this light. For example when we are used to open the tap in a certain hand we will continue to do it for ever because it is more comfortable to our system because it is already knows how to do it. To change a hand might take a long time and many efforts for the system. Another example with food that we used to eat and it is no longer healthy for us. It will be very difficult to stop eating it specially if people around keep eating it. The system will have hard time to eat something healthier although it is much better for us. When we study art or a certain profession it will be preferred always to continue doing and improving the same profession instead of doing the effort to learn and expanding into a new territory.

When we want to hide something it always wants to show itself, perhaps it is a way of balancing. For example if we feel something and want to hide it then our body language will have to express it unconsciously in order to stay balanced. So when things bother us they don't want us to be aware of them and in the moment we recognize them they vanish and become powerless. If we are in a relationship with another person and they treat us unpleasantly then if we confront them with our feelings the way they treat us will have to change because it will not have the same power on us. So bringing something to our awareness consciously discharge the power of the energy that makes us vulnerable and it will disappear from our system. When something or someone causes weakness upon another person the signal stays in the system and might influence his physical level not minding from which time in his life it occurred.

When something like that rises from the human conscious during the energy enhancement it might create a situation where the influence will vanish. That is why energy enhancement is so effective because it brings the difficulty to the surface and the person has to take a stance about it and become aware to its influences. This will neutralize this influence in the person and by strengthening the person's system this kind of incidents will be prevented in the future. When later in daily life the person will notice a different response during occasions like that which will strengthen the recovery from it.

Things want to be felt and expressed in the physical level

We live inside a physical complex and for anything to become real it has to have a resonance in the physical and feeling level. That is why from the moment we are born we are connected to the carnal evidences in all levels: eating, hearing, seeing, warmth, language, happening and so on. In order for something to be valid in the human arena it has to reach the physical level and sensing which means an expression through the human complex. This is why all the researches demand evidences and results findings in measurable tools. The usage of it is huge and related to all aspects of life for example: never to assume we have reached or done something without having a touchable result. Another example is the advertising of products which are emphasizing all the good things that will happen to us physically if we will buy and consume it. As well our standard of living which is measured by the physical evidences that we have achieved during our life and rarely or not at all measures how much well being we have and how much advance is our higher faculties.

The humanity way to measure and approach to things should become more advanced and take into consideration the higher levels of being and living and take into account the abilities and advanced usage of the potential energy levels that is used during our daily life to promote and improve the possibilities of our inner life and energy potency that supports the physical level. All the potential of the energy levels is projected into the physical level in the way of expressions and refine influences that support the fine energy levels and well being, sometimes without saying a word and it might be considered to be minor although the influence of it might be crucial to our further growth and expansion in our life and lead into new territories and possibilities. This can result in new ideas and changing our behavioral patterns and habitual way of responding and dealing with things and with other people in our life. This will lead to new possibilities new attitude new enhancement in the person's life and might even have an effect upon the whole human race.

Now there are all kinds of computers and machines that sense and measure the level of sensations or thought patterns and can translate it into graphs and visual screens. For example there are machines that measure the signals of the head and use them to operate a remote control or games like car racing without the touch of the hands. In the new medicine they use the knowledge on the brain areas and how they are related to the physical centers to project which organ will be damaged because of a certain conflict that the person had. In energy enhancement the idea is to create and produce a stronger or higher level of energy from a finer source of energy that can influence and exchange the lower level of energy in the person which causes in him hardness and lack of essential well being in life. This will produce a chain process that eventually will influence the way the person is living his daily life and having his way of thinking and analyzing what ever he is experiencing. This might lead as well to improve his manners, his responses, his approaches to people and problems and family and other aspects of arrays of reactions in his life and release the old patterns and influence that he was used to have. This means more inner strength and confidence and inner peace and mental toughness which might prevent many problems, functions and illnesses that that the person was used to tackle in the previous lower stage. This will lead to better well being and will appear in the health of the body and in the body language expression according to the level of the energy enhancement.

Energy and Human fields and doors

Every situation in life has in it an entrance into new territories or energy doors that we need to pass through in many colors and shapes and sometimes we are looking to find a specific door but it is behind another door that we are not aware of. There are doors of the future and doors of the past and doors that there is nothing there yet and wait to be created. In what way we are approaching the door: gently, or firmly, or with curiosity, or with difficulty. Does the door open instantly or creaking or hesitantly or we need others help in order to open it. Do we have the right keys to what we are searching, do we have the code to open the combination in restricted places and if we don't can we get it? What about the levels of the doors are they only in the local planet or they expand into other places in the universe. If there are so, when do we have the possibility to reach for them? Are there keys that open all of the doors or groups of doors and how do we get them?

Every door navigates differently into the future and the coming events. Do we have a possibility to watch over the doors and foresee into the future or observe whether it is a good experience for us or not. Can we return from the doors we were used to open and walk into a new path into other more advanced territories, or maybe we are already hooked by what we did or have and found it comfortable enough and we are settled with it. Is it possible to pass feelings and impressions between people that are in different places and sense how it is to be in a different place that we didn't choose? Are there special agents that help and guide us energetic and can they encourage us to make an effort and reach another door or aim us to a better one that we can better fit into it. Is it possible to split into few doors simultaneously or to stay in hold and exit all the doors for a while until we figure out what is going on. Are the doors stay open or keep changing, is the corridor that we are in is lightened or dark, are there more people, are there other forms of life? Do we allow place for more friends with us or we prefer to run by ourselves and see what will occur, or are we open for help from others or give help to others? Are there shortcuts to far distance traveling, does creation has a door, does angels have a door, does our inner lives have a door? Do we have a door for ourselves and how it looks and what its state and is it available to others and what is behind it and who decides for it and maintain it?

The energy is part of the unseen process of growth and inspiration and motivation worldwide and universally and it moves from a very fast movement to a very slow state until we can respond to it in the physical level and cause transformation as a result of full stop and change into a new movement.

The energy arrives from the wish to allow something to exist, it has no boundaries or a known dimension, it is part of god and creation and it moves and nourishes the universe. The universe is an energetic cluster of many energy levels in different states and speeds and qualities. The energy has varieties of facets and rules and it can create realities and give growth possibilities towards development and flourish and an opportunity to create and renew and promote. The influence of it can be physically, emotionally, spiritually, humanly, deep feelings, extra sensory perceptions, expanding into the infinity of time and space and more.

There are energies of the four elements: earth, water, air and fire and each one of them represents a whole aspect of life and talents and attitudes and behavioral sciences. There is a planetary energy, sun level energy, star level energy, universal level energy, healing energy, strengthening energy, leadership energy, teaching energy, willingness energy, working energy, confidence energy, dwelling energy, wishful energy, contemplating energy, research energy, belief energy, appreciation energy, futuristic energy, compassion energy, reformation energy, presentation energy, detection energy, intuition energy, influencing energy, high quality energy, low quality energy, director energy, recruit energy, CEO energy, prediction energy, creator energy, initiator energy, parenthood energy, childish energy, seller energy, marketing energy, and of course many more positive and negative energies which affects us and influence us in every second and in every action in our life. These and all other energies are part of us and keep on forming us into the new ourselves. We reborn everyday with new influences, new energies and new possibilities if we let go of the old and less important, not by eliminating them but by doing other things and concentrating in the things we want to uphold. The easy to achieve are the lower energies because there are much more of them. The harder to achieve are the most profound energies which are holding many codes and secrets of the past and the future and the natural laws upon which all organic life are assembled.

So in order to get energy that can take us further higher for example a spirit flare we need to be in contact with the higher human assembly and whatever is influencing us there. In this way we can create new possibilities and opportunities to do and to be in service for higher things and in that way they can exchange with us good energies with bad or unneeded energies and allow more space for higher essences and new possibilities for what is happening and have in mind what god would have done and responded in relation to that. It is essential to build inside abilities, beliefs, thoughts, dwelling and wondering about the bigger universe, why it exists, what it is for, how was it created. This will allow a safer place to look at the ongoing planetary way of life which is more physical, course, painful and creates miseries in opposite to what is approaching from outer space towards the human race which is soft and warming and humane and shines and radiate well being, contemplations, revelations, inspiration and imagination. Therefore to be able to be in both sides and feel OK and realize that the way to proceed is being in balance with both influences and try to stretch into the more rare and fine is the way ahead. We are not our physical body and we are not our energetic level, we are in the transition and in the process that we take part in and in experiencing human being life. In that way we can separate and see what each part of us is and each thing that we are exposed to in daily life is and start to manage it as if it is our energy business which means to be all the time alert to every suggestion to take part in from commercial, media, books, newspapers, people, places, thoughts, feelings and so on. In such a way we can build a more profound assembly that can handle by deep attention and perception the new ourselves that is interconnect with futuristic possibilities and opportunities and give honor and value to all things that were given to us so far and be firm enough and to know that the low attacks only when we are low or having a weakness and that is when we are measured by the higher because this is the time to elevate by strengthening ourselves by saying no to whatever is less and takes away and decide to go for better location in myself and know the reasoning to find the next inspiration.

So we need to find ways to unlock the higher assembly so that we can start to open up new ways to conceive higher abilities for instance: to know if there is someone in the bathroom without opening the door, to become foresight, visionary, astral traveler, higher sensitivity, registration of tiny little incidents, to know the taste without tasting, clairvoyance, telepathy, palms reading, high definition detection, understanding of how human processes are working, awareness and registration of different psychologies, new revelations, new thoughts patterns, adventures, inventions, becoming immunized to emotional attack or expression, being elevated beyond the fears and disturbances, interesting experiences, adventures from the world, new researches, new cultural means and ways, new lives, new loves and so on. There can be one thing of the list to ignite all the others and drive us into a multidimensional work and cooperation with others to create interest and driving charge for all and for each one. New tools will be explored and recommendation for a loom of receptions that can hold the mutual ideas from the realms of the most high things and the personal connections in order to make one step further and to see how much we are gifted and talents when we work ecologically with the right attendance. Wherefrom we will indicate our loyalty and responsibility to take from it intelligence into our life and become its pathfinder with many small successes and local achievements that one day can grow and expand into much more.

In this way we become a creator of new possibilities in the realms of new knowledge and ways of thinking which can allow us to become the agent of something higher that can be a quality, an intelligent, an essence, an angel a force or something else and commit to stay in communion with it and with what will follow up from its connection by being in totality with it even if we don't count ourselves when being with it. The same is when a person is falling in love; he may be so much in the process of what is happening that it makes the person forget about what is needed for himself. That doesn't say to stop searching, there are many more things to reveal and practice ourselves towards them. So the search continues by paying attention to what is next, to what is on setting, to what is needed now, to where we want to go and explore and to do the things we were meant to do.

This is how we fulfill our human affair by being a partner in the local life having a physical complex that allow us to do certain things, have a conscious and be an energy producer and transducer of higher and lower energies with a mind that is open to new realms and possibilities. It can stay low and physical or be in fantasy with the all kinds of ideas that are unrelated to anything but it can be as well correlated to higher forms that interact with the lower physical end and become enhancing process which reforms itself as we further increased our research and exploration. We might be limited physically but we are unlimited energetic and spiritually and we can handle all kinds of electrical realms in the level that we are at a specific moment. This can continue as long as we are in balance with the higher influence and the lower containment so we can keep on being fit to enhance and allow the continuity of the process and attract into it more intelligence and more qualities and more essences in order to allow more possibilities and expression.

Time system in the transference between the physical and energy systems

Time elapses becomes fast or slow and sometimes there is a sense that 10 years passes until we find something valuable or sometimes there is a feeling that the time changes and we are not in the same place and time or sometimes things happens like it happened before and it seems un-updated. Everything moves ahead in an increasing time and sometimes people stay where they were before few years. The time gives the ability to go back and return, that's how people like to speak about the past and how they were. But there is another meaning for going back on time because people can rewrite the feelings and the decisions and the thoughts they had then and update it according to their perceptions today. In that case they actually change not only their history but also the possibilities today and what will be possible in the future. Because we can relive the time again and again and influence our printing if it is done in the correct way and with the right energy. For example if there is a baby that was attack by his parents and printed the idea that he is not good enough in his system then now the old man can get to that point in he knows how and reprint the fact that his parents were only afraid or thought there was a danger in order to protect him and he is alright and very talented and that's it. So if we can reprint our own past what about the family past or the nation past or the human race past and here it becomes much more difficult and complicated. Right now we are the past of what will happen next and now we can influence the future and cause it to improve but what if our past or our nation past prevents us by attaching us to the difficulties that were in the past. So the first step is to identify what is the most important thing that prevents us towards our next step and find the time where it started so we can update it and change the cycle. So we are called to be at the right time – which means the time that is needed to come from in order to influence and progress our state and project or difficulty. Time can be very short if we don't take account of it. Time can become Mite (small influence) or Emit (big influence) or Item (has a presence but not for a long time) so what about to decide in what time we decide to come and how it will be appeared not only now but in its future, or our future. Life is being all the time and the train of time never stops and while it is moving we move with it and some parts of us can move back and forth and give us signposts of things that we should take in account while we do what we do or decide what we decide, and it can take a fraction of a second to do so if we have the assembly for it because time can be elastic the more we are physical the slower it will pass, the more we will be energetic the faster it will be but much more producible.

The significance that time has on energy enhancing

Time is a local dimension and is valid in the current existence in the physical body. In the higher level of energy living it has no meaning since it is limitless and all and everything is there always. It is possible to travel in space and time using universal webs and it is well explained in the loved photon story. As well in each one's life all the adventures are stored in the system energy. It is stored in the auric sheath and that is why we can always connect to childish responses that we had. It is not possible to eliminate anything that has happened to us but it is possible to generate new things and use them more frequently so they will be more dominant then the one we want to shrink. So childish responses have weakened in us but we can call them if we want, therefore if something happened we can always reproduce it all the time during our life. If this is a good occasion we can reuse its energy and power to proceed or overcome a difficulty. If this is a bad feeling and we are reminded in it, it can cause us to feel bad with ourselves, so when having a bad time it is not wise to remind in all other bad times we had. As well we can use good energy that we have and store it inside for bad occasions or bad experience that we had in the past. Our future is depended upon the energy level that we use today because this will determine what will be possible to use next. Everything we do uses energy according to what the system is trained to process and whatever the system processes it will be able to process more in the future. So if an energy of love wants to have expression it will find the person that is using it the most, this is why if we want to stay tuned to something we need to have a certain level of it so it can recognize us and reach us whenever it wants to. This is why artists and creators become a profession in what they do and then they are able to attract more intelligence about it and sometimes the inspiration arrives to them without even doing something to attract it.

Energy Enhancement

The higher part of ourselves is energetic and its language is light and frequencies and actually it can't be seen in the physical eyes but we know and feel it is there because our senses has also a part which can register things which are not physical if we can allow it to feel and give it the right recognition. This energetic part can have intercommunication with other energetic things that was described before. The important thing is because of the faster media of communication how much of it we can absorb and translate into our physical system. In order to be more available to higher forms of energy we need to reduce our system independency in the physical level, this will allow more room and availability which can be less based upon habits and regularities and common things that we are used to think or do. This means a new way of looking at reality and what is approaching us in daily life and seeing it in a different light and in deeper perception.

Being an energetic healer can happen by knowing better how to work with our human energetic systems (Hew Len ho'oponopono) mind and brain and use the conscious levels to indicate the real changes in whatever the problem is and what action is needed to perform. This means to use the faculties in such a way that is unlimited in time and space and help to create the next stage now. This drives the person to open itself to a new way of understating about physical and energy life and see what is right and when and how to influence it correctly. It takes a person to realize that it needs the cooperation with its complex lower and higher and find the right attitude and the right timing and the right qualities that can weave together and produce the needed conductivity for the requested change. In which it is registered in the human complex as feelings, sensitivity, movements, ideas, thoughts, responses and more. Everything has a meaning the question if we know it? The same is with watching the changes in the surrounding towards us, the fauna, the flora, children and so on. There are energy worlds which are a web of frequencies that are available everywhere according to the energy level of the area. They cause the inner system of the person to go out safely or to retreat back and wait for the right time. If they appear, everything seems to work out easily and with flow and well being and happiness and revelations.

The treatment in energy realms include:

- Aura cleaning in 3 levels
- Energy cleaning of inner parts in the body
- Reducing brain background noise
- Relaxing and slowing down
- Conductivity with higher energies

- Sensitivity for complex registration
- Sensing the aura cleanliness
- Detection of the atmosphere
- Energy cleaning of the place

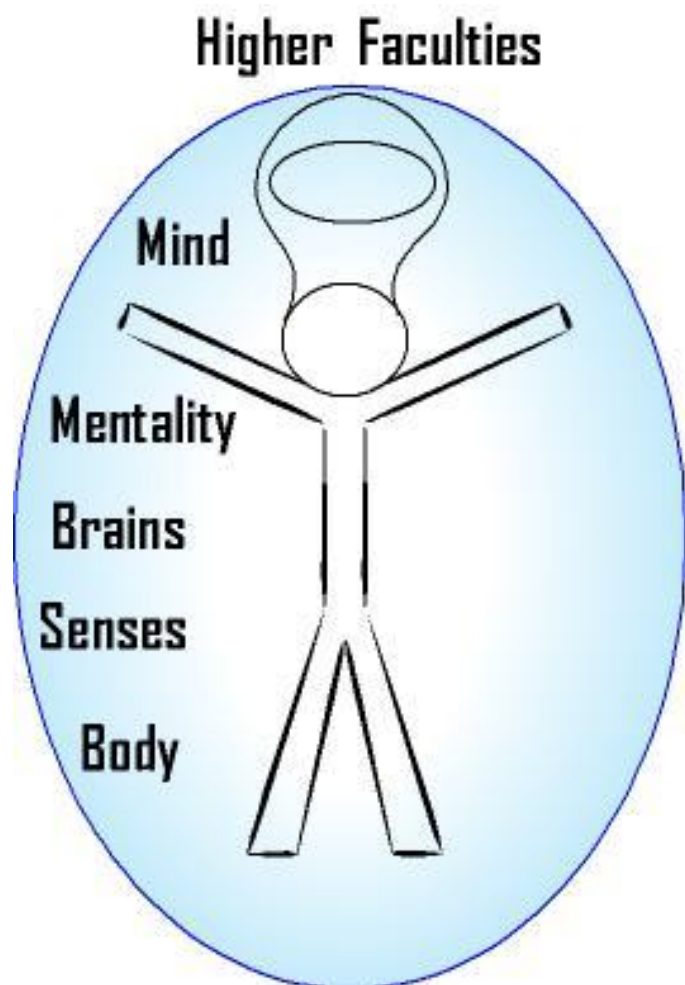

The Human Complex

It is all the levels that we process which are physical and energy

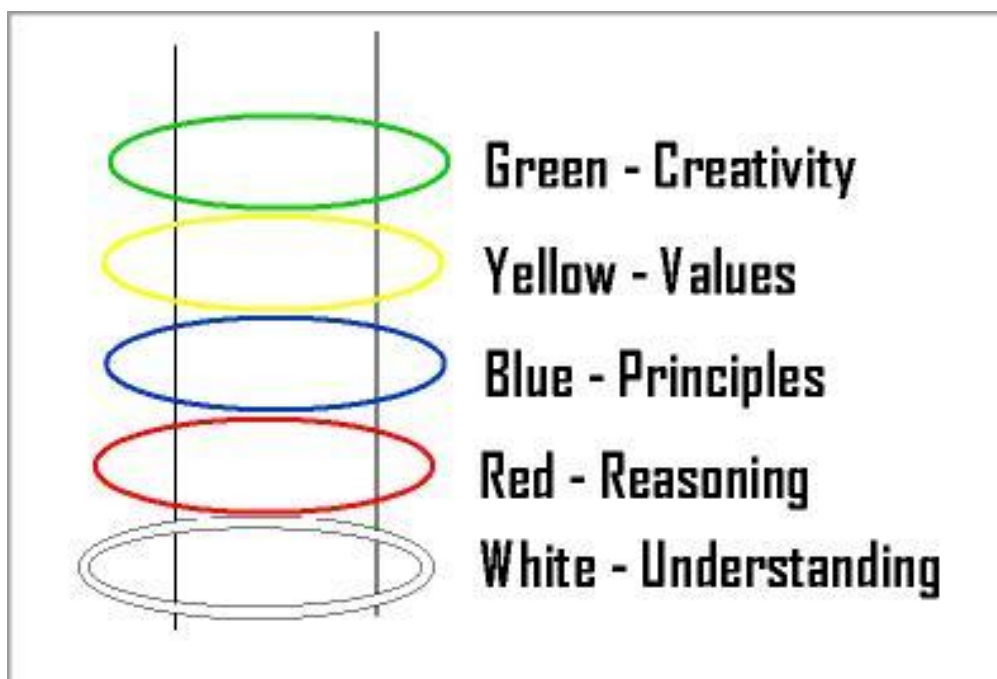

Everything the human is processing influence their well being from physical food level through to emotional level, mental level and higher levels.

The person is a universal multidimensional system (Picture number 5) which processes all kinds of energies cobwebs and tears (Picture number 6):

- 7 rainbow colors
- 5 pentagram colors
- 5 centers
- Brains
- Mentality
- Mind
- Higher faculties

The energy dome of living beings

Every living creature has an energy field and it is possible to measure it with very sensitive machines or in special photos. It begins in the energy field of a single atom where the electrons move around the core of the atom and create a field of energy. The same is in an electrical wire when it is connected to a battery and creates around it an energy electromagnetic flow that can be measured. Anything there is contains a certain level of energy field: inorganic or organic like flora and fauna and human beings. The energy field quality is determined according to the energy process that is going on. It is described well in The Hidden Messages in Water and in every living creature in the state that they are every moment like moods, feelings, views, attitudes, and so on. Since this work is related to human beings we will concentrate on the human beings energy empire. The energy of the human being is concentrated inside the Aura which is an egg shape around the human body. There are some levels of energy inside it and its distance from the body can vary according to the intensity of the energy process each moment. The aura contains the energy of each inner organ and the electrical processes that are going on including the thoughts and feelings and sensing and projections and everything which goes on in the human mind and faculties. Those energies radiate our feeling, behavior, thoughts, responses, well being, state of mind, creativity and so on. They will determine how we will function in the situation, what will be possible for us and how good we will be in our responses and attitude to life. The energy state will influence as well the inner organs through the circuits in the brain, the mood we will have and the general functionality.

The aura is well described in the book cobwebs and tears . It should be sealed and be smooth and vibrant. Every murky color or a hole in the auric sheath is a place of loosing energy and weakness. This may prevent us from well being and to enjoy the brilliancy of life endeavor. See picture number 7

During our life and as a result from all kinds of processes we have we gather energy substances. If the occasion is severe then it may cause a hole in the circumference of the aura which is called the auric sheath. For example when a parent or a teacher yells on a child it may cause a hole which may take many years if at all to be able to recover. All kinds of fears and unconfident we felt with someone or betrayed by someone are there in their energy form. All this may cause disorder, forgetfulness and other diseases. It influence how good we can study and become intelligent, how will our inner organs will work good and how we will feel inside our inner life, how we will perceive ourselves and become of account or not.

Another influence we have upon us is the people and the surrounding we are in. Their energy state will influence our energy and state and will produce satellites or barnacles on our auric sheath which later will enter inside our aura. In case of barnacles they may continue and suck lower forms of energy from the surrounding because this is what they are linked with. In such a case we may find ourselves getting into all kinds of problems that we didn't want to be involved with. We can become very sensitive in the skin or have allergy or back ache. The energy influences start from our pregnancy time and whatever happened to our parents since then. We continue to gather energies all the time because this is the human system a process of all kinds of energies and that is how it works. If someone will isolate himself from all kind of energies he will not be able to live and die on the spot.

Whatever energies we manage to collect during our life will determine what we will continue to collect because when some energy influence is inside ourselves it starts to operate like a radar dish or an attractive food for energy in the same kind. The reason is that if a person become advanced and process high level of energy it will attract higher level of energy from the entire universe and will create a web of intelligence that flows around and fertilize the whole of creation. If we wish to refine our energies and aura we need to go into recovery processes that sometimes take a long time and be exposed to higher level of energy enhancement in order to heal and clean and eliminate as much as possible the coarse energies. Actually whatever is there will stay there, the idea is to build more successfully the higher levels of energy that will assist to attract higher levels to help us float and fly higher and prevent from drowning.

Here are some examples how to clean and balance the energy of the aura

- Balancing the 7 colors of the spectrum
- Balancing the 5 colors of the pentagram
- Electrical cleaning with bells and incense
- Being in places with fine energies
- Working out unsolved issues and conflicts in a balanced way continuously

The way to enhance energy

There is a need of some basic qualities like stillness, clarity, inner balance and sensitivity and intuition to know what the system needs next to step into the next elevation. The way is to enable the system to respond and use kinesiology to find the needed action. This should be without bias and authentic not reliant upon the answer or reaction and to work with whatever is needed and fit to the situation. The assumption is that the human system knows what is best for it and knows the right dosage of the treatment and what is needed next. The progress is with the full cooperation with the system and its needs.

There are few kinds for enhancement:

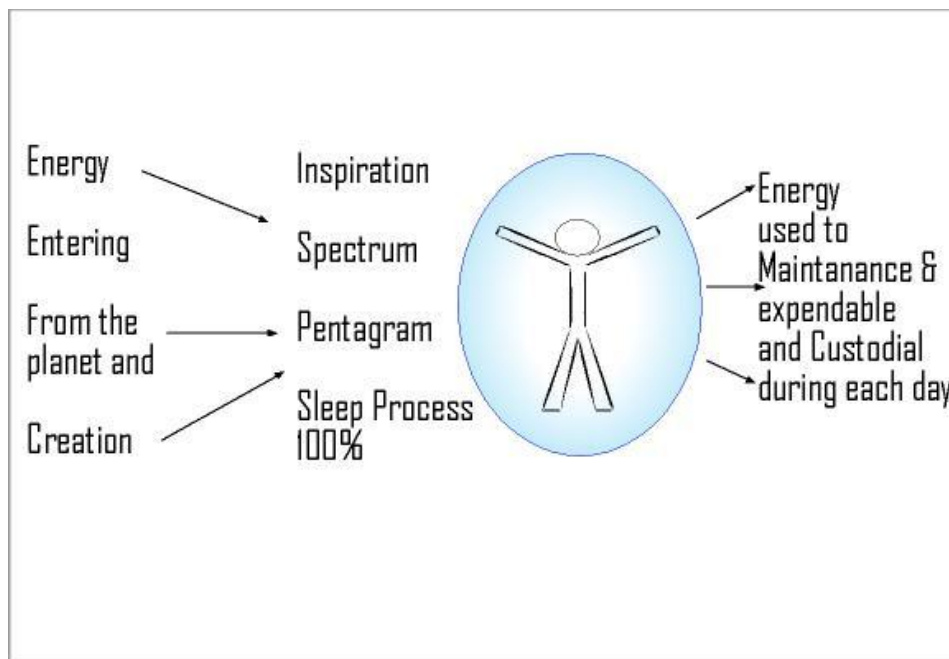

- Strengthen a certain frequency that is a kind of an energy shield to prevent the old frequency influence from finding the person again and causing it to look of other candidates. It can be one of the colors of the rainbow which is the fuel we live upon. It can be according what is needed in the situation in a specific concentration.
- A task of doing or projecting something that commit the person to take a position in himself and dictate the way he respond or feel or engage with life which in the coming time will become a major influence instead of the previous influence that caused disturbance or difficulty. Here also the concentration is critical in order to cause a successful process and an energy change in the person. This is why in some cultures there are mantras or sentences or prayers that they repeat in order to allow the person to be in a new frequency that will bring him to a new and difference place where he is now. People join all kinds of seminars and festivals and workshops to enhance their love, laughter, well being, healing, confidence, protection, anti stress and more in order to promote new influences in their life.

- Any other way that is found during the energy enhancement to promote energy that can encourage new possibilities and abilities and qualities for success in the needed area and open new ways.

The person as an energy resource of things in his life

Every person nourishes his energies and whatever he processes in life, its in the physical form, emotional and mental influence and he does it through the physical complex in the time he has to spent during his life time. The human energy has many consumers and demands of the energy worlds because of its potency and ability to process it and produce more of it. That means the one who is enjoying the energy of the human is not necessarily the person himself. See picture number 8 where there are few examples to show the different agents that consume the human energy that the human achieves during his life:

Picture 8

Following is a table with some examples how much the human spends his energy in his usual daily life:

Energy consumption	Used	Wished
Body maintenance	20	15
Communication with the surrounding	15	10
Concentrated personal thinking	1	30
Inner inspired processes	2	10
Arranging things, shopping, commercial	10	5
Media, learning, authorities	9	2
Physical, mental and emotional work	30	20
Traveling, new experiences	1	2
Creating investments and monetary prosperity	1	2
Handling difficulties and problem solving	10	2
Close family and relatives and friends	1	2

Every day, every person according to his decision and investment that he is capable to do when life allows almost everything to do but the human has the choice according to the external obligations and constraints and unfortunately or because tough life or by surrendering to the current situation not by the inner knowing and feelings. Everyday anew the person is filled with energy and consumes it through things he wants to achieve and grow into and there is where the energy will flow.

The energy in daily life is translated to time and money and intensive life. It's like 3D graph that is like a ball which contains all what the human is capable to process each day all his life. Most of the energy the human is not capable to hold or retain and consumes it till the end until the end of the day and then he needs another charge of energy and so on... The interesting thing is that not everything consume energy, some things generate energy so that the human will devote his life to it in an ongoing process. Thos things that generate energy can be positive like: healing force, inspiration, teaching, revelations, devotion, belief, faith, love and so on, and can be negative like: Money, taking advantage of the weak, humiliate, greed, sex, dominance, power and so on. The rule is that higher things don't force the human but wait for the volunteers that are clean and gentle, and lower things makes a lot of noise and force themselves upon the people and sometimes makes the people believe that they will gain from joining them. These influences are part of countless things that the human is exposed to during a day and demand special talents in order to know how to deal with them. The human gets into a routine of consuming the same things and feels good with them. This continues until their influence start to effect circuits in the brain and relegates into the human physical organs accordingly. It can as well influence the human behavior and attitude and well being. In extreme cases this will lead to diseases and all kinds of allergies or skin problems or migraines (Scientific Chart of Germanic New Medicine). In the higher elevating influences this can cause inspiration, spirit flare, revelations, knowing things without knowing how we know, understanding things in a deeper way and far beyond what is seen, high creativity and so on.

Here is an example about the energy of the emotion

The emotion can be perceived as a system which process all the accesses a human has which consist mainly by the things that he couldn't give them place or respond and they accumulate in the system and being handled in a level lesser then the blood in order to prevent them from influencing the higher part of the human (cobwebs and tears -1-). This energy needs to release some of the energy from time to time especially in stress or hard time or a difficult situation. The access of the locked energy will be through anger, laughter, revenge, bitterness, depression, enthusiasm, love and so on in order to give it a physical expression and to consume it. This can be done as well with other things then humans like in nature by yelling or crying or laughing or sport or working in the garden. This emotional energy sometimes become too hot or coarse and may harm fine energy and high abilities that are part of the way to communicate with new intelligence and perceptions. When these energies become to dense and doesn't have a way to be consumed or processed out of the human system it influences the physical level as diseases like: skin problems, sour throat, pneumonia, sexual disorder, unbalanced behavior, violence and more. This energy is mainly a result of unfinished and unclean processes that occurred in life and were neglected by the brains and mind so eventually in became dense into the physical reaction and there are few expressions to it in language: don't take too much to your heart, it can damage you, don't be too hard on yourself, take care of yourself, don't kill yourself etc. The idea is to process the energy consciously through the physical system and the blood and keep things in balance and not to leave things unsolved for too long. The way is by using energy enhancement and though progression thinking and developing self healing and healthy and inspiring way of living and behaving.

When a person is angry he delivers all his living energy to the thing he is angry at and therefore he looses himself and his energy to something else which is called anger and it has many unpleasant expressions in the physical and energy levels. When this happens many times a day the person is creating in himself a secondary bank to the main bank of anger energy. This causes the person to keep investing anger in the bank and because its servant and after a while addicted to its feeling and influence upon other people, eventually causing other people to become anger as well. So like addiction anger will cause the person to spread and multiply it all over like a virus that wants to pass from one person to the other.

When the case is a positive process like forgiveness or compassion or love or refinement the energy is less suppression and nourishes the person only if he truly wants to have it and become part of this quality and in this way becomes its ambassador in himself. Being an ambassador for something valuable requires to be fit to handle it which means the right thoughts, the right attitude, the right feelings, the right way of responding so that this influence will be attracted and will see the human his replica or twin brother or sister. For example when Moses has seen the burning bush, the bush has seen also a burning bush inside the human and therefore could share and integrate with him and all what came afterwards. So in order for the higher and fine influence want to appear inside a person there need to be the right ground and the result will be: healing, new perceptions, new revelations and inspiration and to become part of a conglomerate of refined energy enhancement within the person as described in picture number 9.

The world is saturated with coarse energies (there is nothing bad with low energy only if it is related to coarse) which is called sometimes as a red-fog which is covering the planet see Picture number 10. Inside this energy is difficult to elevate and inspire the life and retain it for a long time. Because of this the human needs to invest special efforts and many skills in order to keep processing fine things and intelligences. This is why it is so easy to yell and quarrels and be frustrated instead of handling fine energy and healing and enthusiastic and joy and happiness and pure love. The way of energy enhancement is the most meaningful thing in this case since it delivers the capability to be in contact with higher possibilities and give even temporal place for fine influences and more meaningful energies for healing, growth and expression for fulfilling our life endeavor.

Picture 10

Energy Charging and enhancement

When we were born we have received the ability to be and breath and when we leave this place we give it back. During our life we always give and take and the question is what is passing thought in between. What is the right thing: to give or to take, well this is not the right question because we all the time we receive from the planet, the universe, and in a certain moment we should give as well: to our family, friends, country, work and so on. The things that are passing whilst we are giving and receiving will determine the quality of what will be in the process, in the way and in the spirit of it. For example to watch the stars at night and the sun at day and to meditate upon God and Creation and to find a place in myself to contain all the wonderful things and be in a process of receiving and giving and to know how to keep things in balance and the actual needs of the higher and inner faculties. This should be done in order to allow the physical body to be in its best and not to be depended on external wealth which are mainly contaminating. To be part of a much bigger processes and act in the realms of higher qualities and endeavor and take part in a strengthening and responsible ongoing in all levels and be aware to all the surrounding and what is going on there by giving it expression and opportunity. In the same manner become part of a higher influence and a new possibility to gather new knowledge and understandings. Find ways to be of account and in service to higher realms and have great love and facility to renew and enhance and promote and allow new possibilities and influences and to expand into new ways and perceptions and conceptions and inspiration towards God and Creation.

The way the Energy enhancement work

The energy enhancement work by charging fine level of energy into another person. It is known that the higher flow to the low and it is known that a match can't light itself by itself. Good way to look at it is by the way a magnet works. If we take a peace of iron and watch the molecules polarity we will see that they are all mixed and therefore the iron has very low magnetic field. If we will put around the iron peace an electrical wire and connect it to an electrical power it will influence the iron peace and cause the molecules to arrange in the same polarity which will make the iron a magnet and be able to attract to it other metals by the magnetic field that its molecules produce. See picture number 11.

The other metal that will be attracted to the magnet iron will be magnetized and become a less powerful magnet because it will be powered by a small magnetic force whereas the iron that was connected to the electricity wire was connected to a higher level of force and therefore it became a much stronger magnet. That is how every electrical motor or any dynamo works or any transformer that is connected from one side to a certain voltage and induces a different voltage into its other side according to the relation between the numbers of the coil winding on each side.

Another example can be with parents or teachers that want to educate children and claim that the child doesn't learn and repeats doing wrong things. The problem is that the parents and teachers don't realize that they are the big magnets and have an energy influence upon the child. Therefore they can't expect the child to behave better than what they show it. The child absorbs the influence from them and works the same with him energy strength. So if they want to educate the child they need first to implant the education into their inner life so that they will radiate it into the child so the child can absorb the influence and become better. Just words will not do it; it has to come with the right attitude, the right standards, the right principles and the right stamina so that it will generate a dynamo of better human into the child and into the world as well. Everything we say or do should emerge from our way of living and belief and hope otherwise it is just another theory or wishful thinking. The same is with whatever we want to achieve in life, we can't get it just because we want to or say so, and it has to be won in the human way of doing things. This is why in the best teaching is next to a professional or a master so that the mastership can pass through to the child or the student. In such a way the student can become a new master or a professional person because he was influenced and conducted by the right kind of energy induction. When this happens it doesn't really matter what the student does or know because this can be improved as long as he has the right energy thread connected to him. Through this the intelligence can flow, the ideas will come, the brilliance will appear and then he will know what to do and how to evolve. So when we are doing the energy enhancement and if we want it to succeed, the one who does the enhancement and the way in which the enhancement is done will determine the level of success.

Energy enhancement to animals

In the same way it is possible to use the energy enhancement to communicate with the animals and strengthen them by energy enhancement in order to make them balanced and with better being and comfort, feeling safe and confident and calm with their situation. This is applicable to animals in a Zoo or animals that have been injured in nature and it is true with animals living with people who don't treat them well or have some difficulties. Here are some examples: Moving an animal to a different place or changing owners, or bringing another animal to the same house, or changing the food or being left alone for a long time where the owners were away and so on. By the energy enhancement it is possible to return the animal to be settled and re-engage with the reality and gain its vitality and get involved peacefully with the surrounding and the animals and the people.

Energy enhancement through energy vision

There is ability for trained people or special talented people or sometimes by new invented machines to see energy colors and frequencies around living things: flora, fauna and humans (The Secret Life of Plants), the colors have fine vibrancy and illumination that emanate from the living thing and allows to know which influence still exist and its energy appearance. For example: coarse energy looks murky and black and sometimes like a spider cobwebs and fine energy looks illuminated and vibrate hue like fairies and angels in the tails.

Energy enhancement in comparison with physical enhancement

Many times when there is a feeling of weakness in the body people tend to eat something in order to rebalance the feeling. In case of health symptoms it is usually taking all kinds of vitamins or medicines in order to eliminate the body symptoms as fast as possible in the physical level. In general the physical body function is dependent upon many chemicals substances and biological components and electrical signals with all kinds of combinations and timings that are extraordinary in their accuracy and mixtures and they cause material exchange and extruders eliminations and balancing the levels of all the ingredients of materials that build up this huge and complex body that allows it and its organs to works altogether continuously. When there is a missing ingredient even partially it may be felt as a headache or malfunction in a certain organ or causes extreme behavior and makes it hard to operate daily and can cause over or under ingredients in the body which will affect material exchange, sleep quality and food consumptions. People learn medicine for many years and become expert in one domain which is for certain health problems and help people by using medicines and surgeries if needed. Why in the case of energy enhancement it seems less complex and less professional where sometimes it can have better affectivity and more healthy to the body organs. The energy world is huge and complexity and needs very profound knowledge and experience in the energy worlds that makes this research a small spot in the ocean of knowledge and intelligence that can cause cure and rebalance.

Physical and Energy worlds

The physical world fills the senses and used to enable the human to survive in the planet and enables the energy of it to have a physical anchor. It is quiet clear when looking at the mirror that we don't see ourselves in the energy level but we see the physical appearance which is the house where we live. Sometimes people can make the mistake and identify with their body and think that this is all there is and contribute their life to the physical existence and survival. So they gain more attractions, more facilities, more food, more gadgets, more pleasures, when actually the aim is to use the body for existence experience in the edge of creation in order to capture and retain experience for the energy worlds that can only appear and change though a physical membrane. It is used for gaining the needs of developing into a new stage of life and possibilities towards developing the human affair in the universe. This demands capabilities of elevating beyond the daily life and local temptations not in having less facilities or joy but by having eternal qualities and inspiration and have better meaning for life and experience during it. The humans are invited to grow and discover and volunteer their existence to their desire in the energy level by deep conscious towards the true mission of life and the human race. This can give life extra meaning and become valuable in the universe. It is the energy part of the human that is being promoted and can contribute the next phase of life. It is the energy part that can be used during life and make sure it is managed in a balance and intelligence order.

The energy complex that the human us invited to enhance and dedicate his life for is dependent upon the inner state of the person that dictates what can be possible for it any moment. The inner state is produced according to the experience, feelings, thoughts, wishes, loves, inspiration, etc. The inner state changes all the time and demands continuous effort to make it stay fine and vibrant more than the surrounding and the lower denominator of the external happenings. This is the effort the humans suppose to do and agree to be part of. Without it people are influenced to ups and downs of their life that can take them anywhere to the lower places of living. In order to make the effort to elevate the state higher the person needs to want to be ready and different and sometimes look strange to others that prefer the comfort and easy come easy go life. This is the common denominator of people where they are hooked by the small pleasures and especially in the physical level, they are pleased with what they have achieved and are dormant. This is where the money makers are waiting to catch profits in the entertainments and shopping and fun places and pleasures and attractions because it's easy to see and get and have tangible experience. So it is easy to realize that that is what there is, but in the energy levels it is the lower one (it is still valid but shouldn't consume everything in the human experience). For those who feel there is something more in living a life there are many more energy levels and each one of them is a whole kingdom and when people are exposed to it and learn it and experience it they can change their life eternally.

Animals can read energy and know when there is a danger around, their senses are sharp and their instinct is fast although people have advanced technologies. Birds are feeling the magnetic field of the earth and succeed to navigate to new places even if they have never been there before. Cats and dogs can feel what is happening with people passing by and sense threats and know when they can approach closer to people. Babies sense with their face and know when it is safe for them to be held by strangers. They can sense the aura colors and respond according to the nature of the person and not how we would like them to be, they cry and laugh because that is what they feel prone to. People can become sensitive once more with a good practicing and can actually sense what is going on from far away and know the feeling there and the history of a place that they are there.

The energy worlds are in the unseen and they are like a multi dimensions map-road with lights and colors and intelligences and let us experience a deeper and multi level reality. People are part of this theatre and suppose to know and integrate in it in order to elevate and cause the spirit to flare and release energy of higher and powerful octave. It will not happen if we won't know how to shed whatever doesn't belong and stops the special and wonderful higher energies of creation.

Connecting to the energy that takes us forward

We are living in different realities that have various influences upon us and the surrounding. Each one of them allows us to exist within wishes, needs, dreams, aims, targets, beliefs, religions and way of living. The question that arises is what of them is aligned with the aims and visions of the human deal and creation and from which reasoning are we acting. Is the human is the center of the world and the world was created for the human? Or is the universe and creation are the center and the humans are part of a higher system that is intact with the universal and creational needs and aims?

Are the human uses their complex given for living upon the planet for serving the big system that they are part of in order to enhance and promote the wider journey beyond the local planetary affair?

Are the humans like the fish in the water that wants to be fished out of the water or like a fish who doesn't know that it is in the water until it is being taken out of it?

The humans arrived to a place in creation that is totally different in the essence of it and in the existence of it from the place where they came from which is an energy life where are there energy laws with different rules that are not limited by space or time. The humans have arrived in an era where they are aligned to local rules and laws and processes that influence directly the decisions and needs of the humans so they will serve them better and allow the system to continue as it is, supplying the energy, time and power and give up their own unique qualities and existence. This can happen because of false promises and creating dreams of progression and promotion in a tiny width of possibilities. To do that they created a very sophisticated system that monitors and have close control otherwise they will find themselves out of the system and won't be able to exist. This is why from young age there is an education system and places for having fun and expense the energy they have and money to attach the humans stronger to the local system by allowing basic level of maintenance life that will be their target and aim and won't be fine enough to promote higher aspects of life and brilliancies unless it is done in a known educational or business system. So humans create their dreams, wishes, achievements, beliefs, understandings and talents according to the local system and give it their best.

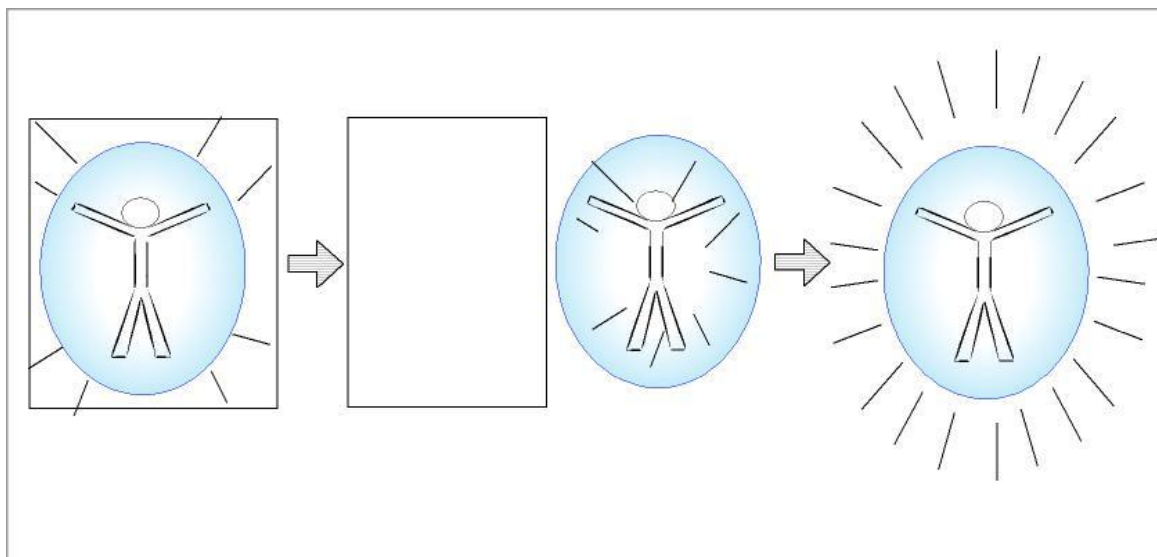

Here rises the question if it is possible during this period of life to stay open to the needs of the inner life of the best temple ever known in its origin which is fine and quiet and volunteering in its nature and not a survival issue. It needs a different kind of study which is energy based unrelated to anything that was taught in the past and the conducted current reality that limits the person to see beyond it and to find its uniqueness and gifted abilities like treasures and go without knowing where or doing things without a reason and having confidence in that system that it knows the next stage that it needs in order to progress and be in contact with the higher system of creation and whatever is conducting it and have a higher nourishment and fuel with new unlimited energy dimension for life.

Everything works on fuel and the human has all kinds of fuel systems and each system uses a different energy level from basic level of functioning in the physical system to higher potent energy used in the higher faculties of the human where a person can help improving his or others life using this level of energy. The use of those energies causes the higher level of life to produce more of it so that the person can use it more often or in a more potent and effective way. The use of it signals high level in creation that the human have progressed into a new stage of possibilities which allows the whole ray of energies to advance like a chain reaction. Unlike other biological creatures the human can produce new kinds of energy that lead to new combinations of possibilities that wasn't possible until now through the higher faculties. The more a person is using higher level of energy the less the person needs stimulations from lower level of energy like: sex, food, gossip, anger, argues etc. which create a lot of inner noise, extreme sports, conflicts and bad feelings. It is not a matter of being a nun or abstaining from something or prohibition from something but it is less needed because the focus or interest expands into something different and it is due to other choices and needs we have in life which are a result of love for the new or inspiration for new knowledge and exploration and respect and value for the wider aspects of life and existence.

Creating place for natural skills and talents

The human is a multidimensional creature which is located physically in the human body which is limited in its design but has a part which is endless in its potential and we call it the mind or the higher energetic part of the human. The problem is that in the critical time of education it sometimes blocked by perceptions and definitions and psychologies that lock it from evolving and continue to expand and explore new territories, of course it is different from one person to another and there are few people who were able to breakthrough their limitations and brought new and advanced knowledge and perceptions. Another way to describe this situation is living in a box which is limited by its borders that were created by the human's way of living. By seeing the box it is already one step ahead since the box is there anyway and in order to stay above the hardship of life it is necessary to realize that we are part of unlimited possibilities and actually there is no box at all, see picture number 12.

Picture 12

When there is no box we are part of something higher and vast and can respond to any new signal that we perceive and give it expression. We are not limited any more to previous decision or concepts and we respond to things as they are with less inhibitions and preordained results. There is only the process that we are in and the influence it has on us and the surrounding which has an effect on the past and the future of our life. The future has no box since it doesn't exist yet, if the past is too dominant it will hide the future from being revealed. This can cause pain and unbalance which lead into fatigue and mental illness since the signal of the future which is our energy nutriment can't be reached. For example: If the new energy arrives and the person is soaked in this problem with his work or family or the authorities there is less chance that he can absorb the higher and fresh energy that just arrived and he is in delay and sometimes misses the resonance with his inner life and the possibility to fulfill his abilities to breakthrough his limitations. This leads into the physical body that has to turn the new energy into the body without processing it in the mind and that can cause overheating of the blood or loading the nervous system to extreme which can cause diseases like high or low blood pressure or skin problems or ADHD (attention deficit hyperactivity disorder) or other behavioral explosions. As well the energy can cause an influence on the blood that can impact the heart rate and pressure. Another way is by influencing processed by the person consciously and the body reads it as an intruder. In this case the excess of energy will be processed through the body by heat or fever because it couldn't be processed in any other way. When the energy arrives in a bigger way and can't be perceived by the human beings in a certain place it can go into the planet direct and cause earthquakes for example or bigger storms, floods or other nature phenomena. This is the way that the energy gets expressed if not processed by human beings as a whole according to the design of being a gate to perceive new energy signals through the consciousness. Therefore the staying in balance is by being receptors and processors of new all the time and finding the way to experience and express it in the physical membrane. Not doing so can lead to stress, unsettlement, frictions, quarrels, war, accidents, misunderstandings, unpleasant responses, hate, failure, bad feelings and fears from the unknown.

The way for feeling the person and the energy

The human being is in a change continuously. The aura of the human which is in an egg shape around it is renewing every 7 seconds (cobwebs and tears -1-) it explodes and starts to build itself again to the next cycle. Every organism in the body has an energy field that can be felt with the right training. The language of the human complex and its organism is by colors, perhaps this is why humans have the ability to see colors and not only black and white. The language of colors is universal and there is a meaning for each color. In a kinesiology examination (ref kinesiology) it is possible to find which color is strong or weak and find to which organism it is related. For example the color blue is related for feeling secure and it is surprising that the police have chosen this color for the blue lamp – to project security. Another example is the color purple which is related to a successful results and fulfillment which can cause a genetic update in case it is in the higher end which is ultraviolet, interesting is the use of ultraviolet for erasing electronic ROM memories. Another color is green which is the source of the energy we consume for anything we do and for being creative in our life, this is the color of blue and yellow that are mixed together like the sun and the planet which the result is the green grass and its emerging energy when a plant is growing from the ground. The colors white is related to the thinking power and in the physical body the skeleton and the immune system with the white blood cells. The white is known as the mixing of all colors and is used for weddings to show a new beginning that needs all the colors for the new start.

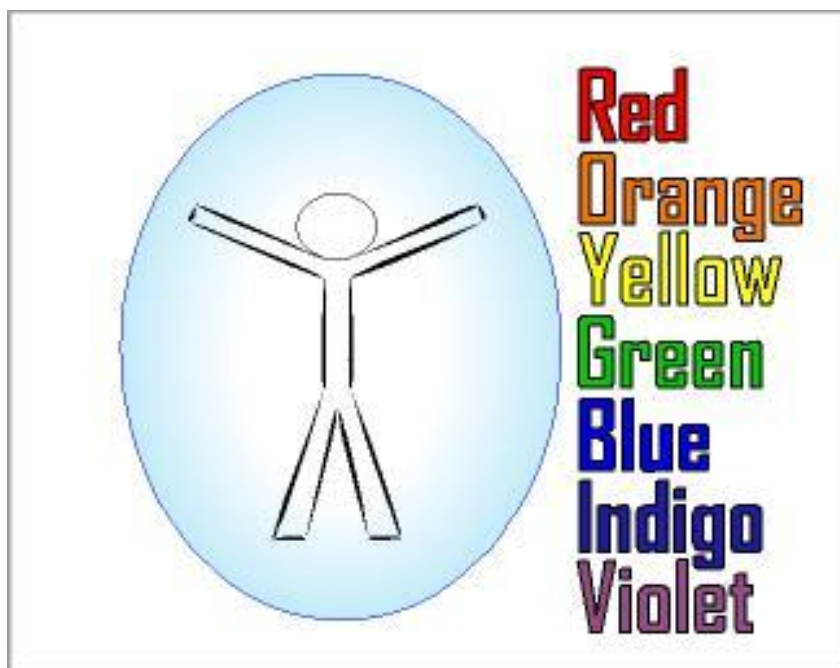

This kind of research is one of the fundamentals when examining the need for energy strengthening to a person. When checking the colors using kinesiology we can examine what is the person weaknesses and difficulties. According to the results the examination begins to find the cause and strengthen the weak color one after the other. It is verified that all colors are strong before proceeding. In this way the energy balance enables to deepen and check inner strengthening as well. More explanation is given in the practical chapter of his work.

The energy system of the human is made of energy center with basic 5 colors as explained in (cobwebs and tears -1-) see picture number 13, the human system can be divided into 5 centers like we have 5 fingers. Every center is like a different domain in the system:

Picture 13

The same can be described in the 7 colors of the spectrum as we can see in picture number 14 here as well the colors are examined using km is weak kinesiology to find which of them is weak and finding the cause that can be strengthened until all are balanced:

Picture 14

The balance is critical in order to improve the well being because if there any leakage or weakness then the higher level energy will use its potent energy to be release into the lower energy and that will influence the possibility to become more available to higher and finer forms of energy and perceptions. It actually can prevent a person from fulfilling his inner life needs.

Every level of energy has a connection to the physical level

Every level of energy determines the personal behavior and management in the short and the long terms. The reason is that shortage of energy in one level produces addiction to get more from the higher energies in order to gain extra energy but then it makes it worse in the long term because the higher energy can't be refilled without investing many efforts of improving the way of living. So if a person uses the high to nourish the low he blocks himself from his potential and therefore fulfilling his higher needs. The solution is to gain the lower energy and rebalance it using lower energies as described in the following examples in the case of the 7 color energies of the spectrum:

Red – Doing things knowing why we are doing them.

Orange – Having the facilities and knowledge to deal with something.

Yellow – Doing things according to what we believe or want.

Blue – Confidence and working out the fundamental and the second importance correctly.

Indigo – How we perceive ourselves towards others and what stature or influence we have.

Violet – What is the final result and does it comprehend with the origin need.

And here are the colors of the next octave:

Gold – What things are fundamentals in ourselves and we demand them to be part of us towards our future life and whatever is possible for us to become. How much we give credence to history, conservative, religion inheritance and so on.

Silver – How much are we flexible and open for new things to appear in our life, our missions, our obligations and so on. How much are we willing to reform and change the way we think and behave and respond.

Infrared – How much we let order and discipline influence us and define what we will do and how we will respond.

Ultraviolet – How much we let change to occur in our life and to what depth. How much are we willing to invest efforts in it.

Being the creator of new possibilities

One of the newest revelations in science in the last years shows that there is a kind of substance in the universe and it is not a total emptiness in the space between the galaxies and the stars. It causes a huge energy field that is not limited by time and space. There is an experience called the loved photons by Greg (DNA experiments) he made 3 experiences. In his 1st experience he proved that a DNA sample can influence the photons and it is remained even if the DNA is taken away. In his 2nd experience he discovered that a DNA that is away from the person can register the emotions of the person at the same time no matter how far it is from it. In the 3rd experience he found out that the DNA is affected by what is going on with the person's feeling, if the person register's something bad the DNA will shrink and harden, if the person register something pleasant and well being the DNA will soften and will be longer and will gain more genes. The communication between the DNA and the person is believed to be enigma as it is not related to the distance and occurs at the same time. There might be an energy web that exists in the universe and all is connected to it all the time. So there is a communication above the physical senses that can measure things and information that are going on. It can be called ESP=Extra Sensory Perceptions which include telepathy, clairvoyance, energy seeing and more. These are abnormal senses which are unexplained until now. It is known that sometimes new revelations happen at the same time in different places on the planet. Now with the internet it can be proven but in the past the same invention happened in far places at the same time without knowing so. What about getting same ideas in different parts of the universe as part of universal web which we yet can't prove it exists. For example a farmer in China needs a solution to improve the yield of his rice. Suddenly on the other side of Earth a person discover a way to produce rice more efficiently. At the same time the farmer with his desperation receive the idea and he is overwhelmed although he didn't invest the same effort in finding the solution. This is because our higher system is always working even if we are not aware of it and we can get its help if we can become impersonal and open to receive the signal.

By training ourselves to translate what we feel and register right now and on which part of our body it influences and where it comes from we can know much more about the influences and how it affects our well being. How we register the plants the animals the people around us and the energies around which influence our mind and thoughts and become aware of it as much as we can. In this way we get connected to a much wider spectrum in our aura and are able to respond to it in case of something is needed right now. It means that we need to be available to our system at least as much as we enquire from it to do things for us. It can spread as well to becoming aware of the solar system and even further in the universe. Each of them has an aura and they can connect with each other through the higher web which is not limited by time and space.

The human being has higher abilities in comparing with other forms of life. It has a conscious system which is divided into 3 parts (cobwebs and tears -1-). The conscious, the semi-conscious and the subconscious, each one of them has possibilities and abilities that radiate and influence the human expression and behavior and determine in what level it will be. In the conscious level we process whatever we do every moment and are capable to respond only to a fraction of 10%-40% what is going on in us and in the surrounding. The processes that we are aware of are getting a physical expression and are stored in the memory inside the auric sheath. Whatever is not relevant is burnt and disappear, the part that we didn't succeeded to process arrives to the semi-conscious and gets a respond during night at sleep or being moved into the sub-conscious as an un-dealt substance. Everything that didn't get a respond is stored in the un-conscious which is unlimited and can store all the things we tried to avoid and ignore. It is accumulated continuously until a time when something from the outside triggers it in a delicate moment and the result is uncontrolled loading and attack which leads to problems and difficulties and eventually severe illness.

It can work as well in the opposite direction if the person is more aware and open to register ideas and revelations and not focused in himself too much; in this case once in a while in a good inspired moment some intelligence will arrive to the person's subconscious from the higher web of the universe. If the person is available he will get a tingling in himself and will respond to it after a while searching for its meaning through the reference he has in the sub-conscious and then it might appear in his conscious thinking which leads to overwhelming and flare from his geniuses. This can cause the person to become a leader or have a great charisma or become a famous writer or a singer or any other kind of special talent. Actually it is open to all people as a possibility but most of them are too busy to be open and available to the soft tingling so it goes to someone else. Such an influence makes people ultimate brave and heroes for a moment and some know that it is a gift they get from higher influences and are more open for it in the next time. This will cause people to be well motivated and have well being and confident and shining. These people can be sometimes unpredictable because they want to stay open for the next time. The other side of it is when a person is full with himself and have fears and difficulties that he can't deal with and doesn't know when to begin. He can't respond and usually does things to ease himself like over eating or over sleeping or over exploding and can't see a way in his life beyond the problems, this will result in frustrations and health problems. People will not want to be in touch with him and he will feel less acceptable. Something in him will radiate emptiness and careless and self inferiority.

Here is where it is recommended to get an energy enhancement and starting to eliminate the negative circle by producing positive enhancement and strengthening the energy influence in a way that can reform the person's old behavior into a positive circle. Here is where long lasting illness can start to disappear one stage after the other according to the progress of the person.

Like in the Newton physics where the physics rules are known and simple, there is the usual conscious where all is know and familiar using the senses and the physical body. And in the quantum physics where nothing can be predicted and known ahead so is the higher conscious where everything is new and changing all the time and the future is mixed with the past and causing all kinds of new happening and responses. It is like in a state of dreaming while awake (not day-dreaming) and in a way it influences the person and his surrounding and with full inspiration asking how come we didn't know it before. It can appear as becoming healed suddenly without knowing how and becoming more calm and balanced until next time when something is bothering and turns into a disease or a weakness. This is where words like miracles or angels or wonders will appear because the regular conscious can't perceive or explain it. This usually what happens to profits or special people or with unexplained phenomena – see picture number 15.

The energy healing enhancement process

Using kinesiology technique is a great help in measurement the effect of the enhancement and to decide which the best needed and efficient enhancement each time is.

The physical level healing is related to eliminating of the symptoms which are in the visual level or the chemical level or the pain level using physical engagement chemical drugs or direct infusion in order to determine a new stage for the balance in the physical level and the chemical level. This can be measured instantly and they are easy to compare with the previous state. There is no relation to the inner state of the person and the causing factor for the phenomena. It is a short term respond like when we are hungry we go and eat but we don't always ask why are we hungry and what does it mean and if it is because the nutriments then what kind of food will provide these nutriments and what effect will it have in my life. Sometimes the need for food comes from an emotional disorder or complain or a need for warmth or a need to have a quiet moment. The other way can be taking a medicine or pills in order to eliminate the hunger feeling. This can influence internal organs like the liver and cause other side-effects that we will need to deal with later on. The same is with taking all kinds of pills because of illness instead of working out what is the real thing that the body needs and why and rebalance the person. It is well described the new medicine (Scientific Chart of Germanic New Medicine) that any chemical treatment may influence the ability to cure in a natural way and may damage the ability of the natural immune system for the next time. Therefore the person will enter an unending reliant in the medicine world and will decrease his complex to deal with weakness or viruses or other immunity malfunctions.

The energy enhancement is done fully with the energy levels of the person and therefore it is implemented into the energy system which then reduces itself into the lower energy and the physical level which is the slowest energy form of the complex. It may begin by influencing the brain and the behavior of the person, the emotional level and the inner organs level. It affects the physical body through the nerve, chemical substances from the brain, biological microbes if needed and emotional reactions in order to clean previous influences and reform a new inner state and a change in the physical level of the symptoms that the body started with.

Having a physical problem is a signpost to realize there is something to be done with how we are handling our life and body. This problem radiates firstly in the energy level and later appears physically, dealing with it physically is very temporal and local, dealing with it in the energy level will make the healing more permanent. Eventually the change will appear in the physical level and the origin problem will disappear and might not come back because of the same cause. This is why an energy enhancement needs more patience and meetings that will expose some of the occasions that have influenced our life. The accepted method nowadays is to get a receipt from the doctor and take the pills. The responsibility is on each one to decide what is better for them at that time. When the human complex raises the flag of illness it means that we should stop and start to see how we can improve what we do in our life. It is the language of the human body and us in the lower end and in the higher end. The lower end is easy to see and understand but the higher end is mostly unknown and unseen. The higher energy language is based upon fine sense abilities and knowledge of the energy worlds. It includes the color systems, the aura radiation, the inner alignment, the inner feelings and more. It is a kind of sense that is open to the higher faculties and consciousness like when we loose something and try to recruit the higher system to find where the thing is or when we are struggling to find a solution to something and are almost despair about it something will trigger the higher system and it will help us to overcome and succeed. We need all the time to improve our sensitivity systems and awareness in order to enable higher intelligence and inspiration to be endemic in our life and available when we need them. The energy system language is open for all who are willing to put themselves in the path of elevation and enhancement and are willing to dedicate themselves to let go of the noise and turbulence of life and change the course of their life so they will become prone to higher influencing and inner life. The physical language is open to all even if they choose to be settled with being less sensitive and surviving the basic level of life.

The way to achieve the cause for the problem or the illness of the person is by using the skills of the energy worlds. There will we find the cause and the cure and will be able to enhance the energy of the person. It is done by revealing the cause using the translation of the brain to the signals that are received by the energy system of the healer. The strengthening is multiple and change from person to person.

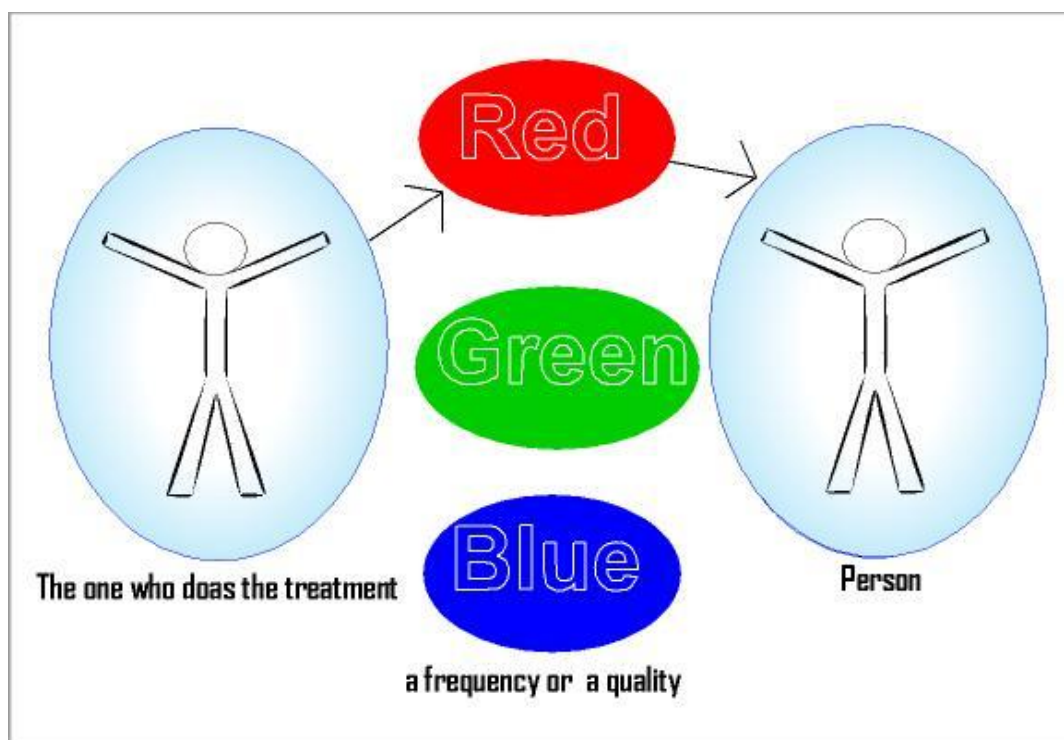

Here are some examples:

- Read a sentence with a specific idea or perception
- Find something creative
- Walk barefoot in nature
- Doing something we love
- More specific examples in the practical chapter.

These exercises are given authentically during the treatment; they are checked in what frequency to repeat, for how long and how much time each time. The knowledge and the intelligence arrive with the treatment according the need of the person. If the enhancement is not needed it is checked whether the person need an energy shield to help to recover from a certain difficulty and is aimed to cause help in a certain energy frequency related to the spectrum or beyond. The amount of repetition and length of the shield is decided according to the kinesiology results. The shield prevents from low energy influences to continue to reside in the person's aura and activate the lower energy levels and influence the person's state. After a while if it is done powerful enough the person will not need the shield and will be able to prevent the lower influences on his own. The higher energy levels are very fine and call for a mutual participation between the person, the one who gives the treatment and the energy higher levels. The connection to the energy higher levels is through the person who makes the treatment which is on a development journey to enhance and improve on daily frequency.

Every process has the energy levels that are related to it that nourishes the person and in a treatment it nourishes the person who is in a need and gives him an opportunity to overcome a difficulty, illness, other problems and so on and to offer growth above his previous state of affairs. These enhancing energies might much bigger source of energy that is universal and is beyond the capability of the one who is doing the treatment to handle but in time he will be able to contain and hold much more potent energy see picture number 16.

Picture 16

The person receives a thin energy line that connects him with the influence of the higher level and fine energy and he might even be able to have a direct connection with the fine energies by himself after the treatment.

Cover and shield for doing the process of the enhancement

Like in any form of adventure in nature there should be a cover for the process in case of adventures in the energy worlds. When we treat a high voltage source it is different than in case of handling batteries of low voltage source. The same is in the energetic force fields the more we progress and deal with higher and stronger influences the more we are vulnerable to extreme lower energies that can cause imbalance, bad feelings, diseases violence and feelings of inferiority. So the need is to create a kind of an envelope or tools to let the lower energies flow into the flora, the ground or to be burned out by incense, fire or the influence higher energy that is part of the process.

It is relevant for both the patient and the person who does the treatment because both of them need to improve their energy life by that high form of energy that is attached to the process.

There are few cautions in order to keep this process going on successfully:

- Minimum ego
- It is me who doing it
- Over self confidence that it will work
- Disregard the power of the healing and the higher forces
- What can heal can inflict

There are few helpful tools for the process:

- Respect to the possibility that it can cause a change and healing
- Honor the atmosphere and the unseen worlds
- Belief that it can be done
- Hope for the future upcoming influences
- Projection how it can improve later on
- Wide perception of how things are working
- Persistence and determination
- Being unbiased and neutralize about the process

The whole process is independent on anything, it is a pure contact between the person and the higher forces through a third communicator media. It should be impersonal and pleasant and can cause a feeling of well being and easement. The side effects can be a feeling of a soft pressure on the head of currents in the body. There is a need for deeper knowledge about the human energy systems and how they work together. There is a need to know the human body and inner organism in order to analyze better the problems. There is a need to be completely with the need of the human complex in order to translate correctly the action that is needed to be done. There is a need for esotery knowledge in order to be able to detect if something goes wrong. And there are many more things that can allow the person to make sure that the process is the most pure and aligned with the higher energies.

The energies that appear can be very rare and from outside the realms of the planet earth. They allow the person who does the energy treatment to grow and expand into more territories and into much higher realms. The more the process is connected to higher energy the more potent and quick the influence will be. For example there is a difference in the energies of the: Moon, Planet, Sun, Star, and so on. There are actually 9 levels of energy powers in the universe and creation.

It is important to have an open mind for other kinds of treatments that are well know from the past and have achieved many successes. Therefore it is offered to have a conventional check as well in one or more of the following partial list of possibilities:

- Lab tests of ordinary medical treatment
- Yoga workshop
- Feng Shui
- Rebirthing
- Meditation
- Music treatment
- Hydro treatment
- Art skills
- Homeopathy
- Nutrition assistance
- Acupuncture
- Physiotherapy
- Imaginary guidance

There are other options available and there are also more energetic tools like:

- Telepathy
- Clairvoyance
- Dreams, visions and projections
- Soul psychology
- Challenges and inspiration
- Balancing activities like:
Laughing, crying, yelling, sport, sex, mental challenge, dancing, intuition, doing the impossible and more
- Connection with higher influence of energy like healing or spiritual journey

Shield and enhancement for the continuous of the enhancement

The treatment is condense and potent and continues to work and effect the person afterwards. In order to keep the process working properly in the right direction and to make sure nothing prevents it from succeeding there is a need to find ways for going on in the coming days or weeks. So the person is in a place of a change in the energy fields and needs now to maintain it for a while. Here are few possible ways to allow it to happen:

Test (cobwebs and tears -1-) has a definite task for a definite time and it has a certain task to get a tangible result. This process helps to print and retain a quality or an ability to respond in a new way which will be better for the person. For example: in order not to fall apart when someone yells on the person, it will cause the person to respond and become a master and not a slave for this occurrence. Test is needed to allow the new to influence the person more then the old.

Shield has an energy protection while the current energy enhancement proceeds. The appearance is during the first days when there is a need in a certain energy protection to make sure the achievements of the treatment can continue to come into a full fulfillment. It takes a while for the new energy influence to soak in the human complex and remain there. Energetic Shield is needed to allow a better dome for the person to carry his better future.

Practical evidence and results

Treating people – new message to the world

Having belief and knowing that there are new possibilities and abilities starting to appear in the world and beside the fears and stress there are energy worlds that are available to be used for enhancement and improve the inner state of people. Humans are living for a much bigger affair then the local and temporal life time. The whole universe is in a need for expansion and by listening and responding we can assist the bigger affair through the energy worlds and as well use them to improve our life and health. The connection that the human has with the unseen energy worlds has tremendous effects upon the success of energy enhancement. It determines the level and possibilities and intensity that the enhancement will affect the patient. It can determine the attendance that the person will have during and after the enhancement, it can be temporarily or permanent. It is important to realize that the enhancement we do is the best that we could have done at that moment and it always changes and updates according to the unseen worlds we are in contact with at the moment. With the right help and attitude we can improve and increase the people and ourselves.

Every person has the energy assemble that attracts certain levels of the unseen world's energies and by enhancing other people he needs to understand and contain the needs and difficulties of the person and be able to decode the cause using the energy system of the person. People that don't know how to work with the energy systems and faculties can't perceive the remedies information and data and the ability to detect and analyze at the level of the brain itself in order to know what needs to be done to eliminate the current difficulties or disease. So in order to be able to help other people or organizations the person should be in a continuous process of containment and connection with the higher energy levels of himself and the unseen energy worlds. At the moment that there is a clear understanding of the problem or difficulty it is possible to figure up what kind of energy enhancement is needed at that moment in order to eliminate it. In order to find out what kind of energy enhancement is needed at that moment the person should connect to his energy system and find out and translate the signal that is registered. Usually the signal arrives instantly and the only thing that is needed is to give it a physical realization and appearance. It may be a certain color, or a thought pattern or a phrase or a symbol or a quality value, or something to be done physically, or food consumption, or a behavior, or an attitude, or a creative work, or something that the person like to do or have and so on.

The energy enhancement is needed to cause sustainability and confidence and overcome the difficulties and give energy food to the inner system of the person in order to grow from the lower levels of energy and inner needs and senses so they can produce for him the needed and the right kind energy signals in the future.

Every disease or difficulty is an inner state or a conflict or bad circumstances of events that have inflicted the person have created a loss or a weakness of an energy frequency or a lesser quality to appear from the energy worlds and have connected the person's personal energy assembly to a web of lower levels of energy or inner state. Now when the person is ready and open it is the time to reconnect the person to higher energy web levels that will allow him to upgrade into a new state of energy that will allow the person to reform and actually change himself in a way that there will be no place to the previous difficulty or disease whether it was emotional, mental, physical, or behavioral. The process takes time to integrate with the inner energy systems according to its intensity and depth inside the person (how long the person had the problem or how much the problem was severe). At last the problem is solved and the person might not realize that he actually had such kind of a problem especially if it wasn't a physical problem. The reason is the inner energy state of the person is now different and therefore can't connect to the previous energy state. Therefore there is a need sometimes for energy shielding that will prevent to reconnect with the previous lower energy state.

During sleep process people are being cleaned from all kinds of unbalances that have occurred during the day and the processes are being presented by energy in the form of dreams that are a pictorial or movie from a mixture of events and energy signals. The mind can create a cleaning happening inside the person where the event in which a difficulty has occurred is floating out on the ground and reveals itself where the person can now reconnect to the story line and tell himself the story in a different and more positive and enhancing way. Sometime when we have an insight of an occasion that has occurred many years ago when we were young and see how we have responded it is needed to tell that life inside us how young we have been and how we did our best at that time and tell ourselves the story once more in an updated way that we now have much more confidence and experience so that we can influence the occasion in the past and clear things that don't sit well in the energy that we contain in ourselves. If we succeed to do so then all the energy that the previous experience affected us is being transformed now to a new kind of energy and influence and it goes all the way in time until what affects us right now and can be updated. So the dream that we had at night actually allows us to influence our future by cleaning the events of the past and their energy influence upon us. When using energy enhancement we enable solution to the cause of the problem in the past of our existence. This case causes in us physical responses and a feeling of a wall that we can't cross because we need a different kind of energy level in order to cross it. When we get that kind of energy we don't ever see that wall and can't perceive that it was actually there few moments ago. It is a new state of balance in us and it has a different feeling and mental projection. It triggers us to respond differently and to become new in our thought patterns. When there was a physical disease attached to that problem it disappears and when there is a similar trigger it will not cause the previous scenario to occur.

So it is easy to see that the way to improve our life and increase our potential is by energy enhancement which is available if we know how to be attractive to it. We need to know what is the next thing to clean from our life that can take us to the next energy level and it will help us to project us into the next stage for more inspiration and renewal. If it happens we can start to feel the feelings of it and to find the reality we need and wish to have for ourselves. The cause that influences us is where it occurred in the past and is the thing that we need to enhance in us in order to leave the place we are in right now. When this solves then the problem will disappear and if it had a physical symptom it will dissolve because the system itself is energy based and works in harmony with the physical part of it as a holistic system of mutual systems.

Discussion

The way the energy enhancement is done with people is by consciousness the triggers and causes of what influenced our energy level in relation to the difficulty or problem that they have. The energy enhancement is done by various frequencies in the right potencies and combination that can rewrite the events influences and produce new possibilities. It is done using the technology of kinesiology and the knowing of the human energy systems. The approval of success is done by using the same method of kinesiology and if needed a certain task or shield is being offered in order to preserve the advantage of the energy enhancement. The main effort of the energy enhancement is by being aware to the inner feelings and influence of the higher energy system of the person that knows what is needed in the energy level and can help and assist intelligence and knowing that can help and support the energy enhancement process.

There are countless evidences and examples that can be given. Each time the solution in the energy level is different and is related to the energy system of the patient at that moment of the treatment according to the physical-emotional-mental state of the person. They demand conscious awareness in the need and in the potential of the energy enhancement in order to move from the current state to a new stage inside the person. The energy enhancement allows strengthening and clarity and determination and courage and qualities in order to make it happen. The energy enhancement gives inspiration, hope, belief, and new beginning in life and faith in the marvelous empire we have been given from god and creation that allows us to act in the physical level.

The improvement in the energy levels is affecting the inner life and state and influence thought patterns, feelings and emotional aspects and behavior. The results are integrated in the daily life affairs like responses, way of speaking, confidence, decision making and the mindset of the person. This can penetrate into the physiological systems and inner organs by the influence of the circuits in the brain that are related to the physical organs. The physical result is actually the attributive result of the process. The movement is from cleaning efforts to energy enhancement of the cause that promoted the problem in the origin and moving into a new energy level of thoughts and responses. This is actually a 3 stages of a breakthrough of any stuck situation that the person was before the energy enhancement.

The 3 stages of energy enhancement of the events in the past, release of current physical problems and difficulties and creating a new healthy and balanced energy state for dealing with new occasions in the future are a one holistic enhancement that creates a different energy domain inside the person.

It is known that every letter or a word contains an energy template and it actually holds forces of qualities and emanations of energy enhancement. Words can actually influence a person's life more then physical response. For example as a child a hit was forgotten fast whilst a bad word lasted longer. That is why most people are more concerned about what people tell about them then what people did to them physically. So words in the right context are more powerful then physical contact. That is why energy enhancement sometimes uses words or phrases to enhance the treatment and help the person to remain in the right state and reservoir of energy that will keep leading him into new possibilities in life.

The ability and wish to study the energy language and to know and feel it and translate it is a life mission. The ability to grow in the conscious level is almost impossible in a certain age if it wasn't done before and it can help the person to build inside himself new parts that will produce new perceptions, new understanding and new abilities to respond to the energy levels that passes through and translate them correctly and to know how to use correctly the energy enhancement.

It can be seen as analogy to an energy dynamo that is not seen in the physical level but being expressed in the behavioral patterns improvement and in the disappearing of physical problems like skin harsh, allergies, migrants, aches and so on and help the person in daily life functioning. The treatment doesn't use any physical interference yet the result is affecting physically and enhances the person and makes him able to do more and things are being solved and improved.

The energy assembly is dynamic and changing and contains in itself the history of the person, the family, the nation, the humanity. It is important to notice that every change is engraved in the system and located in the memory and experience storage and effects allover the system including the current and futuristic behavior and allows us to reach the abilities, reactions and opportunities that weren't possible before. The knowing that the human is connected to many sources of energy and that most of them is being controlled by him and he has the ability to decide about the attention and place for each one of them gives space to perceive the human being as a multilevel complex in which each moment is dictated or being dictated what will e the available possibilities.

This is actually the mission of everyone who wishes to succeed in something which means to generate positive energy and feeling that will emanate success and allow dealing with what is resisting and summons the needed intelligences and when it happens arrives the moment of truth where the understanding and knowing are accepted in the system and translated and available the positive feeling that we were hooked on something big or small and what is left is to explain and explore but the result is already here and now and what is needed now is to fulfill and make sure that it will be done so that the achievement will be real.

The more the effort is clear and focused things can arrive faster to the physical result. Most of the things that are formidable and heart us in the physical body are stemming from things that have occurred in the past and were pushed or didn't get the right attention or left an energy scar signature that when gets triggered an appearance in the current life they are woken up and reopen the energy path and get the power that have accumulated in many years and is capable to create a difficulty or an enhanced energy effect much more stronger then the thing that influence our life at the current moment even until taking control of our system in terms of the behavior or feelings or thought patterns or mindset which determines our current mental state and well being which can lead to an accident or a physical problem or a chronic disease that in order to overcome it, there is a need for huge healing forces and moral strength. That is why the energy paths we have engraved and embossed in the past will keep influencing our life if we won't know how to energy enhance these paths in order to overcome the old paths and rewrite them in a new form and path.

Evidences

We will use examples and see how they occurred and what kind of energy enhancement was used. These are specific examples and ways from one person to another. In each case the combination and potency is different as has different ingredients and skills. It is a matter of degree of a degree to do it in the right way and order and sentiment and devotion.

Humans are made of many kinds and levels and potencies of energy and they can use it for helping and enhancing and it is much more complex then the human organs. These energies can be used for improvement and uplifting or for dictatorship and humiliating other people as was done and still is in some places around the globe. So humans are here to process these energies and can grow and enhance and can expand and fulfill the life that we have which is in a difficult environment and education that is economic oriented. So we can let the next bit of growth to arrive safely and build the emotional, mental and mind in order to be able to contain the new possibilities.

So here are some ways of energy enhancement for all of them the result was successful and the local cause was neutralized, for some of them the treatment ended and for some of them it still continues and gets improved from each session:

Name/Sex	Symptom	Local Cause	Energy Enhancement	Extra Energy Enhancement
A.M. Female	ADHD (attention deficit hyperactivity disorder)	Trauma in age 4 from the mother side	Yellow, Blue, Purple, Ultraviolet	Purple circle and inside a white dot for 10 days twice a day
T.S Female	Arthritis	Current stress of the husband in relation to the children	Purple, Ultraviolet
G.R Male	Stress behavior	Trauma age 19 felt abandoned in the army	White light around the aura

This is a partial list for few people that the symptom was eliminated permanently and is written in a summarized way and it can be given in a full length and details if needed. It still continues and being improved all the time for many other people.

The enhancements that are described are partially described and they are part of a whole session and personal coaching that brought the understanding and current energy enhancement. It should be indicated that this is not the method of how to do it, in order to do it one has to learn and research the human design in the physical and energy levels and have the ability to perceive the different influences of the colors and frequencies and to know how to detect what is needed in what intensity and how much the influence is needed and from what energy level.

The table describes in a simple way how the energy enhancement can be implemented for everyone in almost everything which are not related to physical interference like surgeries and so on. Therefore it is a description how it can be done and how it is possible to grow into a new stage of energy treatments that can change the well being of each one and enable to elevate above the constraints and difficulties that are dealt in each person everyday of their life and create shortcuts of growing and improving their behavior and perceptions and the approach to life and its reasoning and how to step forward towards the reality of how things are related from the energy unseen worlds to the physical appearance in each one's life.

Energy enhancement is growing and accelerating and will expand like fire in the woods. Many people are practicing energies from all kinds like: of Chinese fighting arts, all kinds of healing treatments, energy communication, telepathy, clairvoyance and energy vision, and we are always projecting us into the future. The next stage of it can be the knowing what is right and what is wrong and the ability to give energy cover to whatever we engage with and to promote and help people towards well being and fulfillment and growth into the life as it was meant to be.

The human race is in a place and time of becoming more energy focused then physical focused and this will influence the possibilities of the coming future. People are energy creatures and are in a process of exploring into energy realms which affects them everywhere and all the time of their existence.

In this research work we have examined the essence and effectiveness of energy enhancement upon people. It has been researched for a whole decade using many methods and it seems that it has matured and still improving its effectiveness and intensity and variety of cases. Each individual has its own history and energy configuration which dictate the behavior, thinking patterns, sensitivities, habits, initiatives and they are prone to have all kinds of difficulties, problems and health difficulties. So we need to see how to use specific energy enhancement and use it in the way it will be most effective.

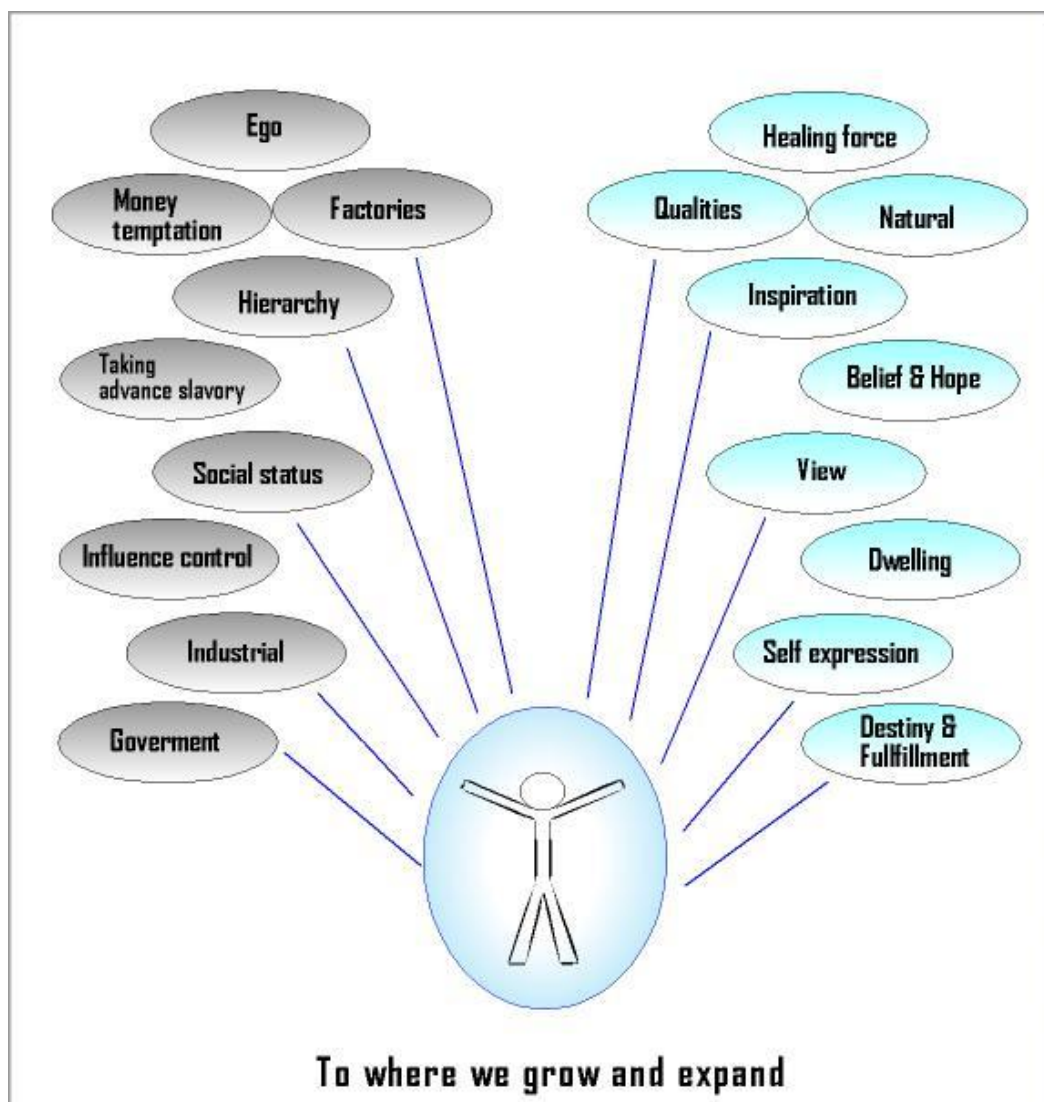

It is a beginning of a new era where people are inclined to have new skills and abilities and we can see many ways of energy enhancement all around with many ways and flavors and all of them are initiated from having over charge of energy into people who lack the ability to enhance themselves and it is a natural skill that people can grow into if they wish to, like any other skill and gifting that a human can have and gain by genuine efforts.

Summary

The human can experience itself as part of a natural assembly or part of a cultural assembly that was created by humans. The natural assembly is related to all the parts that we came with when we were born as human beings to the current journey of life and they include our talents, personal qualities and characters, the physical body and the higher and fine levels of the energy system, the soul, the spirit, the aura and so on. By using them the human can actually live their life for example: by using the senses to locate himself in the physical works, by using the mentality and the mind to find solutions and creative communication with the surrounding and using the different qualities for a spiritual journey that is related for new knowledge, new perceptions, inspiration and fulfilling the life and destiny.

The tools that we have been given to use whether physically or energy powers are the platform in which each one can build his own life reality. It can be use in the natural world for maintaining the physical body and opening an energy path to the origin of humanity and life which can connect the person to higher realms of energy, new discoveries and enlightening himself by being exposed to the higher levels of the energy worlds that exist in creation. This can happen only if the person volunteers to dedicate some or all of his life to these energy levels. It can be used as well in the cultural form of living where all or most of the energy of life are invested to grow and expand economically or towards personal gain and loss or all the pleasures that fills up every possible place from food, drugs, sport extreme, or any other form of ecstasy. For example: more tastes, more adrenalin, more emotions, egoism, selfishness and all the personal identities that were being created in all the cultural revolutions that humans have created since the front rain has developed and by the ancient influence of animal survival which is translated now to control and rule and gain territories and possessions and ranks and being rude in order to gain more according to the selfish personal concerns of existence which in most cases turned into individual state of mind based on narrow minded ego for power and influence of other people, status, money and sex that created a system that dictates rules and laws that it itself doesn't obey the rules that were made by it. These rules were made to protect and preserve the system for long time as a first priority even more than the people it was meant to give protection, the spiritual life and the free spirit of people. The way it is being handled is by tying and letting the people to connect them to the cultural way of living and existing by creating a self identity according to that culture. The self identity allows the people to use all their given energy to the culture as a first priority, see picture number 17. The perception of improvement and success that was meant for the natural world that is related more inwardly was distorted and caused to totally identify with the cultural world that is related more outwardly. This is how the inner life of a person became insignificant and self fulfillment became the power above other people and luxury instead of the qualities and plentiful of the universe.

Here are some examples of the natural possibilities for the ways to reconnect with the real life and higher energy worlds towards fulfillment:

- Having the right intention and building the right assembly needed to grow and expand into new researches and territories that need the higher view of life and living in a human body. The intentions tend to rely upon the inner needs and also the psychologies that always try to influence the intentions that we have. Intending too high will cause frustration, intending too low will make a feeling of how come I don't progress which is also frustrating. To intend is to aim our faculties towards the success we want or the next elevation to explore. Intending is always needed so we can keep growing continuously.

- Being fully devoted to what we choose and love and doing it with fully appreciation and best attitude so we can do it in the right way in the right timing and have the deeper feelings and knowing concerning it. It has to be thoroughly researched and reveal the core of the matter and the origin cause for the appearance in the physical world. It comes with patience and being unbiased in order to become fully aware and deepening.
- Having honor as a place of maturity to rise upon it and grow from. Honor enables the respect for things and for the higher views to appear. Honor will give the drive to be more profound and accurate and expert in what we do and achieve. Honor is the best things we can invest in order to be fit and attractive to higher and refined levels of energy.
- The right regulation for the next stage of possibilities and knowing is essential since it is the causing factor for being able to handle the refinement and potency of the energy enhancing. Without the correct attitude and assembly the energy force will back off until we are ready and fit to continue and have the right connection with it. Since it is an intensive life with many ups and downs it is important to balance the picks of it and stay in a more balanced place so we can keep ourselves attractive to new possibilities and intelligence on a permanent base. This will ensure being more corrective and accurate in daily life and will cause more potent energy enhancement.
- The ability to continue and improve the possibility to enhance energy is dependent upon the superimpose integration and whole array of the unseen worlds identity formation into the human complex which allows to grow and expand in a balance and secure way that enables confidence and higher faculties abilities and inner life expansion. This is a whole energy journey that never ends and always improves and reveals itself. It is a spiritual endeavor and experimental in this stage of writing.

It all up to us what we do or use in our life. The energy worlds are there and the question is what kind and what level of energy we use. It is fine to live in the culture if we know and realize that it is only a fraction of what we can be or do and to have a growing connection into the natural reality which keeps calling us quietly to join and become the explorers and contribute our specific part into a much bigger picture that will share our bit in the eternal existence of creation.

The energy enhancement is meant to release people from their over grip into the cultural world in the way it has affected their health and well being whether it is physical, emotional, mental or any other way.

The next phase of it will be that every human will become more aware and will use the energy enhancement to allow himself to fulfill the locked potential and to be released into a better human being and by that to allow more light and hope for the future.

This experiment is the Chladni plate experiment. I used a tone generator, a wave driver (speaker) and a metal plate attached to the speaker. First add sand to the plate then begin playing a tone. Certain frequencies vibrate the metal plate in such a way that it creates areas where there is no vibration. The sand "falls" into those areas, creating beautiful geometric patterns. As the frequency increases in pitch the patterns become more complex

Definitions

These statements are written from the perspective and up to date perception of the writer. It is an attempt according to this stage only and not a final definition of any of the following words:

Energy

Is the exchange of forces between high and lower level, can be illumination or demolishing according to the source of the force. There are all kinds of energy for each living creature, from God and Creation to the most stable material that holds in it a huge amount of energy if it was released.

Human

An attempt of God and Creation to have a physical anchor of energy and forces that are slowed down into a form that can create new forms of energy and forces out of the original force investment. It is actually a tiny little end nerve of the creator which has a physical form and is able to transform and be in direct connection with the core of the universe and creation and is able to take an active part in the mission of life.

Creation

The higher known of the causer of life which created God for the wish to give out of itself in order to grow from embryo condition into a mature state using the created physical universe as a catalyst to produce more intelligence, possibilities, perceptions into the higher levels of life and towards itself.

God

From the archives: Creation causer and causes - compound combined - in which is agreement, witness, cognizance, connection and mindful notation of the fact of a human life and all that it may do.

Radiation

The emanation, elevation, intention, enhancement, potential of all the forms of energy emitting that have a physical evidence towards all forms of life and is producing new and old patterns of life.

Quality

The level of radiating energy that is defined by its cleanliness and potent and has the intention of the energy used for the action. It is a bar which always have high and low levels that can be achieved in every thought or movement or expression according to the source of it's arising.

Essence

A form of energy that is attached to each kind of our actions from the energy worlds and it might have the most refined level and the coarsest level when coming in contact with the human life as itself and according to the effect of it is in the passing through a living life that can absorb its radiation.
